William F. Carey

William Frank Carey is Carmel's only law enforcement officer ever killed in the line of duty. Carey was named deputy constable by his cousin, Constable Edward Carey, on June 7, 1900. The following day Deputy Carey was shot and killed while assisting in the arrest of Thomas J. Johnson at Jeffries Livery Stable located just west of the present Mahan's Hardware Store.

Carey had been made a deputy for the purpose of arresting Johnson, a controversial tent preacher. It was never established, however, whether Johnson actually killed Carey. Witnesses said it was possible Carey could have been caught in a crossfire during a melee at the stable. Johnson died in a hail of bullets fired by members of a crowd which gathered.
