

FLORIDA CORRECTIONS ACCREDITATION COMMISSION, INC.

FCAC STANDARDS

Edition 4.13

October 2020

PREFACE

The Standards Manual is the principal publication of the Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission, Inc. The first edition was published in February 1998 with 260 standards. The second edition was published in July 2000. The third edition was published in July 2004. The fourth edition was published in February 2016 and is the current version of the Florida Standards Manual.

This manual and other Florida corrections accreditation publications are available from:

LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

The Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission, Inc., ("Commission") a Florida not-for-profit corporation, makes no warranty, expressed or implied, for the benefit of any person or entity with regard to any aspect of the standards contained herein. These standards were adopted for the sole use of the Commission for the exclusive purpose of their application to the agencies seeking to obtain or maintain accreditation, there being no intended third party beneficiaries hereof, expressed or implied. Nothing herein shall be construed so as to create any right, cause, property interest, or entitlement on the part of any applicant agency or third party. These standards shall in no way be construed to be an individual act of any commissioner, director, employee, agency, member, individual, or a legal entity associated with the Commission, or otherwise be construed so as to create any liability in an individual or official capacity on the part of any commissioner, director, employee, agency, member, individual, or a legal entity associated with the Commission.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

In an effort to keep up with current corrections trends, criminal justice issues, and Florida Statutes, the Standards Review and Interpretation Committee (SRIC) and the Commission have been accepting and reviewing input from corrections practitioners for improving the Florida Standards Manual. The fourth edition is the final result of various committee and subcommittee meetings, executive workshops, and numerous individual hours dedicated to addressing all suggestions and concerns.

The work of the Standards Review and Interpretation Committee is endless and many dedicated professionals contributed to this edition. The Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission, Inc. thanks the past and present members of the SRIC for ensuring the fourth edition continues to meet the needs of the Florida corrections community.

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT

An accreditation program has long been recognized as a means of maintaining the highest standards of professionalism. Schools, universities, and hospitals are some of the most well-known organizations required to maintain accredited status. The accreditation process is an outstanding management tool for criminal justice agencies. Accreditation provides a blueprint for building an agency committed to providing value-based services through accountability and transparency to the communities it serves.

The Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission, Inc. (FCAC)

In July 1997, during the Florida Sheriff's Association (FSA) meeting in Naples, Florida, a sub-committee was formed by the Florida Model Jail Standards (FMJS) Committee to develop an independent, voluntary corrections accreditation program.

The FCAC program offers correctional facilities, pretrial and probation agencies the opportunity to evaluate their operations against established standards.

The Commission's purpose is to improve the delivery of correctional, pretrial and probation services through an accreditation program based on Florida law and best practices. The program has the following objectives:

- Establishment and maintenance of a system of professional operating standards for local correctional facilities
- Administration of an accreditation process that encourages facilities to raise their level of professionalism by voluntarily complying with standards promulgated and approved by the Commission
- Review levels of compliance with standards through a comprehensive, assessment of an agency's policies, procedures, and actual practice
- Development and provision of training programs to assist agencies and their personnel with the accreditation process
- Ensure that the business affairs and programs of the Commission are conducted in a professional manner
- Promote the concept of accreditation to correctional agencies throughout the State of Florida

THE COMMISSION

The FCAC was formed in January 1998 as an independent, not-for-profit corporation. The Commission's purpose is to establish a program for accreditation that can be achieved by all Florida jails and pretrial agencies. The Commission is comprised of 12 volunteer members:

- Four sheriffs appointed by the FSA
- Six jail administrators appointed by the FCAC Nominating Committee
- One pretrial professional appointed by the Association of Pretrial Professionals of Florida (APPF)
- One probation professional appointed by the Florida Association of Community Corrections

The Role of the Commission

The Commissioners set forth all policies and procedures for the accreditation process. They are responsible for the direction and operation of the Florida Accreditation Office (FAO).

The Commission holds three meetings annually for reviewing agencies for accreditation or reaccreditation. Assessors play a key role in this review process by serving as representatives of the Commissions. Commissioners determine an agency's accredited status based on the information provided by the assessment team. The Commissions hear all appeals and are responsible for resolving any conflicts that cannot be resolved during the assessment.

The Philosophy of the Commission

The Florida accreditation process is designed to reflect best practices in the areas of law enforcement, inspectors general, corrections and pretrial management, administration, operations, and support services. The Commission expects agencies to maintain compliance and presumes agencies operate in compliance with their established directives.

Commission Staff

The Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) provides funding for positions in an effort to support the Commissions and agencies going through the accreditation process. In conjunction with the FDLE, the CFA and the FCAC appoint the Executive Director, who manages the FAO staff and the accreditation programs.

The Executive Director and staff have the responsibility and authority to carry out all policies, procedures, and activities of the Commissions and their committees. This includes supporting agencies working toward accreditation or reaccreditation, overseeing the assessment process, coordinating Commission meetings and review, and handling all business matters and daily operations.

The FAO serves as the Commissions' information and materials resource center. Training classes are regularly held for accreditation managers and new assessors. Specialized training is also offered during each accreditation conference.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Commission offers two ways for a correctional facility to become state accredited. Agencies may choose to comply with all applicable state standards (full compliance) or, if the agency is currently nationally accredited through the American Correctional Association (ACA), they may choose to comply with only the standards outlined as additional to the national process (comparative compliance).

The agency must provide evidence of current accreditation by ACA and undergo an assessment for Florida standards not addressed by those entities. FCAC agencies undergoing a comparative compliance assessment will have three assessors scheduled for three days unless the FAO determines otherwise.

INITIAL ACCREDITATION

Agencies begin the accreditation process with an application. Once the application is completed and submitted to the Commission for review to determine eligibility, an agreement and invoice are sent to the applicant agency. The formal accreditation process begins when the agency executes this agreement, which specifies the obligations of the agency and the Commission. The agency has 24 months to complete the self-assessment phase from the date the executive director signs the accreditation agreement.

REACCREDITATION

Initial accreditation is valid for three years and annual reports must be submitted by January 31st of each year. The accreditation manager should continue to evaluate the agency's progress toward meeting accreditation standards by monitoring changes to the written directive system and how they affect agency compliance.

Proofs for a reaccreditation are required to show compliance from assessment to assessment. The Commission review for reaccreditation will occur on or about the agency's anniversary date.

THE STANDARDS

Scope

The Commission expects accredited agencies to maintain compliance and live by the letter and spirit of the standards. The Commission presumes agencies operate in compliance with their written directives. The agency must consider its mission, its legally mandated responsibilities, and the demands of its service community when determining which standards are applicable and how to comply with applicable standards. The standards provide a description of “what” must be accomplished by the applicant agency. The agency has wide latitude in determining “how” to achieve compliance.

Composition

Each chapter begins with an “Introduction”, which provides important guidance to an agency regarding the subject area, its applicability, or related standards.

Each standard is composed of the standard statement and at least one proof of compliance. The standard statement is a declarative sentence that places a requirement on the agency. Many standards require the development and implementation of directives. Other standards require an activity, a report, an inspection, equipment, or other action that may be observed. The standard statement is binding on the agency.

Proofs of compliance are the recommended means for the agency to demonstrate compliance with standards. The proofs are included to help the Accreditation Manager and others involved in the process to understand the type and sufficiency of proofs necessary to demonstrate compliance.

Applicability

Standards may or may not be applicable depending upon the functions performed by the agency. Assessors must review all standards to identify those not applicable by function. For example, if an agency does not perform the court security function, then the chapter dealing with court security becomes not applicable (N/A). However, simply because an agency may not perform the function, the standard may still apply. For example, standards in the communication chapter of the CFA standards manual would need to be addressed even if the agency does not perform these functions internally. Standards are considered applicable if the function is an integral element for improving the delivery of services or professional management of an agency. Standards beginning with an “if” statement indicates a conditional requirement. If the condition pertains to a function not applying to the agency, the standard becomes N/A. Assessors will verify that functions are not applicable during the assessment. The Commission reserves the right to require compliance with any standard.

Standards that are mandatory address life, health, and safety issues; legal matters; or essential law enforcement requirements. These standards have a letter “M” placed immediately following the standard number. The agency is required to meet all of these standards unless a standard does not apply to the agency’s function.

If an agency is prevented from complying with an applicable mandatory standard due to circumstances beyond its control, such as labor contracts, court decrees, it may ask the Commission to waive the obligation to comply. The agency must make the request in writing during the self-assessment phase. Assessors will verify waiver conditions during the assessment and complete the form. The Commission will make a final determination during the agency’s review.

All remaining standards are non-mandatory and address good business practices. Correctional facilities may select any of these standards to satisfy accreditation requirements, but must comply with at least 90 percent of the applicable non-mandatory standards.

Proofs of Compliance

A standard is in compliance when the proofs demonstrate an agency has met all of the standard requirements to include interviews, observations and time-sensitive requirements.

Elements of a File

- Written directives
 - Policy/procedure
 - Plan
 - Rule
 - General/special order
 - State law or local ordinance
 - Collective bargaining agreement
- Supporting documentation (other than written directives)
 - Memoranda
 - Computer printouts
 - Job description/JTAs
 - Letters from citizens
 - Logs/rosters/evaluations
 - Budget documents
 - Instructional materials
 - Police reports
 - Incident reports

- Observations/Interviews
 - Activities
 - Equipment
 - Security
 - Facility
 - Policies
 - Procedures

Agencies have one year from the published date of the standards manual to comply with newly issued standards, or as directed by the Commission or Florida Statutes. Agencies must notify their FAO Program Manager regarding which edition and change notices apply prior to conduct of the assessment. Assessors will verify agencies are following the appropriate standards manual.

New or Amended Standards

Unless otherwise directed by the Commission, new or amended standards are effective upon publication. Agencies seeking initial accreditation, reaccreditation, or having already achieved accreditation or reaccreditation must demonstrate compliance with new or amended standards at their first assessments following the publication dates of those standards. However, if those assessments occur within one year after publication of new or amended standards, agencies may delay compliance for up to one year after the enactment dates of those standards.

GLOSSARY

ACA: The American Correctional Association

Accredit: The bestowing of credentials upon practitioners or institutions symbolizing approval from a professional organization.

Accreditation Manager: An employee designated by the agency administrator to supervise the planning and implementation of accreditation activities in the agency.

Administrative Confinement: The segregation of an inmate for investigation, protection, or some cause other than disciplinary action.

Annual: An event occurring once every 12 months.

Applicant Agency: An agency that has submitted an application to the Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission.

Agency: The governing authority with direct responsibility for operating a corrections program, and for formulating and implementing policy.

Blood borne Pathogens: Pathogenic microorganisms that are present in human blood and can cause disease in humans. These pathogens include, but are not limited to, hepatitis B virus (HBV) and human immunodeficiency virus (HIV).

Booking: As a police action, booking is the official recording of an arrest and the identification of the person, the time, the arresting authority, and the reason for the arrest of a person. As a jail facility procedure, booking is the procedure for the admission of a person to the jail facility; it includes a physical search of a person and his/her possessions, the taking of fingerprints and photographs, the conduct of interviews for medical history and personal history, the inventory and storage of personal belongings, and the assignment of the person to a housing area.

Certified Member: An agency member, employed or appointed as a full-time, part-time, or auxiliary law enforcement or correctional officer with CJSTC certification.

CFA: The Commission for Florida Law Enforcement Accreditation, Inc.

Chemical Agent: Any chemical, which can produce sensory irritation, or disabling physical effects, which disappear within a short time following termination of exposure.

Civilian Member: A full or part-time member who is not CJSTC certified.

CJSTC: The Criminal Justice Standards and Training Commission.

Classification: A system, or process for determining the needs and requirements of those persons being confined, and for assigning them to housing units and programs. Elements of this determination include the following: security level; work assignments; special treatment services; allowance or denial of certain privileges, and other assignments as may be available.

Close Supervision: Regular, documented, physical observation of an inmate by certified correctional officers or members of the medical staff at intervals not to exceed 15 minutes for adults and 10 minutes for juveniles. If the sole purpose of posting officers inside these units is to accomplish documentation of checks, the unit may or may not be considered Direct Supervision.

Contraband: Any item in the possession of an inmate, or found within the boundaries of a jail facility, which is declared illegal by law, or not specifically approved for possession by an inmate by those legally charged with the administration of a jail facility.

Contractor: A person or organization that agrees to furnish materials or products or perform services for the facility or jurisdiction under the terms of a written agreement at a specified price. Contractors operating in correctional facilities are subject to all applicable rules and regulations for the facility.

Corporal Punishment: The act of inflicting punishment directly on the body, such as beating, flogging, hitting, kicking, etc.

Correctional Facility: A county jail, a county stockade, a county work camp, a county residential probation center, and any other place, except a municipal detention facility used by a county or county officer for the incarceration of persons lawfully detained.

Direct Continuous Observation: Uninterrupted visual observation of inmates by certified members or medical staff, who are responsible for inmate care, custody, or control. This may include electronic monitoring, i.e., cameras, if uninterrupted visual observation is maintained with no distractions due to other responsibilities, and a certified officer or medical staff member can immediately intervene on behalf of the agency or inmate.

Direct Supervision: A style of inmate supervision that applies a management philosophy that includes a special classification of inmates, a separate set of informal discipline and specific policies, procedures, and training. Officers have continuous direct contact with inmates and staff by being posted inside each housing unit. Officers are not separated from inmates by physical barriers. The Sheriff/CEO is the authority to designate the facility a direct supervision facility.

Disciplinary Confinement: The housing or segregation of inmates found guilty of facility rule violations.

Disciplinary Hearing: A non-judicial administrative review conducted by a disciplinary hearing officer or committee.

Emergency: Any significant disruption of normal facility or agency procedure, policy, or activity caused by riot, escape, fire, natural disaster, employee action, or other serious incident.

Emergency Response Teams: A select group of officers who are specially trained and equipped to handle high risk incidents.

Employee: Any person employed full or part-time, under contract with, or appointed by a county or municipal government or officer, whose primary responsibility is the supervision, protection, care, custody, provision of support and/or control of inmates.

Environmental Health: All conditions, circumstances, and surrounding influences that affect the health of individuals or groups in the area.

Exonerated: Alleged action(s) occurred but were justified, lawful and proper.

Exposure Control Plan: A plan designed to eliminate or minimize a member's occupational exposure to biohazardous substances.

Extra-duty Employment: Employment that is conditioned on the actual, or potential use of law enforcement, or correctional powers by the employee, and is rendered during a period of time not within assigned hours of duty.

Fair Market Value: For the purposes of this manual, comparisons should be based upon an analysis of like items from a sampling of stores in the community where the jail is located. Commissary prices should not exceed the range of prices found.

FCAC: Florida Corrections Accreditation Commission, Inc.

Field Training Program: A structured program provided for certified officers, or employees hired under temporary employment or appointment conditions (TEA), which teaches the application of skills and knowledge necessary in the corrections environment. Characteristics of a field training program include close supervision, daily observation reports, training checklists, etc.

First Aid: Emergency treatment administered to an injured or sick person before professional medical care is available.

FMJS: Florida Model Jail Standards.

Grievance: Formal request in writing presented to management to resolve differences in matters identified by the agency and/or collective bargaining agreement.

Grievance Process: A formal program designed to manage and respond to a grievance. The grievance process must be written and available to employees, and must outline steps required of the persons(s) filing the grievance and the form of response required of management.

Health Care Authority: The designated health administrator or agency responsible for providing inmate health care services at the correctional facility(ies).

Health Care Professional: Licensed, or certified individuals whose primary duty is to provide health services to inmates in keeping with their respective levels of health care training or experience.

High-risk Inmate: Inmates, who require special security considerations due to their charges, past actions, or other documented factors.

Independent Audit: An accounting conducted by an entity from outside the agency.

Indicted Juvenile: A juvenile of any age, indicted by a grand jury for an offense punishable by death, or life imprisonment.

Indigent: Inmates determined by the agency to have insufficient funds in their accounts to purchase items or services.

Inmate Medical Screening: A systematic examination or assessment done by a health care professional, or staff trained by a health care professional, to determine the presence or absence of medical problems. The screening includes physical observation and completion of a medical screening form.

Inmate Welfare Fund: An account from which funds may be drawn upon for items, programs, and services that benefits the overall inmate welfare population.

In-Service Training: Training received by agency members to enhance knowledge, skills, or abilities. This includes periodic retraining, specialized, promotional, advanced, or roll-call training. In-service training may also include less formal types of instruction, such as roll-call training at the agency's discretion.

Internal Audit: A financial accounting conducted by an entity within the agency but outside the chain of command of the unit to be audited.

Jail Administrator: The person responsible for the overall operation and maintenance of a correctional/detention system, including the implementation of policy.

Juvenile: Any unmarried person, under the age of 18 years, who has not been emancipated by court order.

Lesson Plan: A detailed guide an instructor uses to conduct a course of instruction. A lesson plan may include goals, specific subject matter, performance objectives, references, resources, and methods for evaluating or testing students.

Mandatory Standards: Standards that address life, health, safety issues, legal matters or essential correctional or business practices. Every agency is required to meet all of these standards except those which do not apply to the agency/facility by reason of function. Determination as to whether a mandatory standard does not apply to an agency/facility rests solely with the Commission.

Medical Isolation: A cell, or housing unit, used for the purpose of separating an inmate from others for medical reasons.

Medical Screening: A systematic examination or assessment done by a health care professional to determine the presence or absence of medical problems. The screening includes physical observation and completion of a medical screening form.

Member: See employee.

Mission Statement: A statement of the role or purpose, by which an organization intends to operate. Typically, a mission statement should describe what the organization does, who it serves, and what makes the organization unique.

Monitoring: The act of observing, listening, carrying-out surveillance on, and/or recording the actions of the inmate population.

Non-Mandatory Standards: Standards that address important or desirable correctional, management, and business practices. Every agency is required to meet at least 90 percent of applicable, non-mandatory standards.

Not Applicable Standards: Standards that address areas of responsibility or correctional practices for which the agency is not responsible, or is not performing due to contracts, jurisdiction, or mutual aid agreements.

Objective Jail Classification: A process of assessing every jail inmate's custody and program needs using locally developed and validated instruments, one at intake and another after a period of confinement to identify the level of risk and needs presented by an inmate so that appropriate housing and program assignments can be made.

Off-duty Employment: Employment activity, non-law enforcement or correctional in nature, which does not require the exercise of any form of law enforcement or correctional powers.

Oleoresin Capsicum Spray/Foam (O.C.): Also known as "pepper spray" is a chemical agent that emits a chemical solution composed of oleoresin capsicum, a natural oil of pepper, and a carrier agent, such as isopropyl alcohol, which is designed to incapacitate and aggressive or resistant subject with no lasting after-effects.

Parent Agency: The Sheriff's Office, Board of County Commissioners, or private corporation, to whom the Jail Administrator reports and which provides administrative and/or financial support.

Periodic: Conducted or occurring at least every three years.

Physical Examination: An examination of a person by a health care provider to determine the presence, or absence, of physical problems.

Plan: A detailed scheme, program or method worked out in advance for the accomplishment of an objective (e.g., plan of attack); proposed or tentative project; systematic arrangement of details; an outline; drawing or diagram made to scale showing the structure or arrangement of something.

Policy: A course of action adopted and pursued by an agency that guides and determines present and future decisions and conduct. Policies indicate the general course or direction of an organization within which the activities of the personnel might operate. Their attainment may lead to compliance with standards as well as compliance with the overall goals of the agency or system.

Privileged Mail: Mail received, or sent to attorneys, courts, public officials, or the news media. (Refer to Florida Department of Corrections Definitions; Administrative Code 33-210-104, Institutional Mail; 33-210.102 Legal Documents and Legal Mail; 33-210.103, Privileged Mail; and 33-210.101, Routine Mail; for further details.

Probationary Period: A specific period of time, not less than 6 months, of continuous, active employment, the successful completion of which can lead to permanent employment status. Probationary periods may also include a set period of time subsequent to promotion to determine the suitability of the member to continue at the new rank, and includes disciplinary probation periods imposed to determine suitability for continued employment or achievement of specific objectives related to a continuation of employment in a current position, grade or rank.

Procedure: A manner of proceeding; a way of performing or effecting something; an act composed of steps; a course of action; a set of established forms or methods for conducting the affairs of the agency.

Proofs of Compliance: Documentation assembled as part of a file to prove compliance with a standard.

Qualified Interpreter: A professional who facilitates communication between deaf and hearing individuals. A qualified interpreter is able to interpret effectively, accurately and impartially both receptively and expressively, using any necessary specialized vocabulary. The qualified interpreter has specialized training in interpreting from one language to another for example, American Sign Language [ASL] to English and English to ASL. Simply knowing both sign language and English does not qualify a person as an interpreter. The role of an interpreter is to accurately convey all messages between the individuals involved in the communication setting.

Rules and Regulations: Specific articles describing and/or prohibiting behavior, actions or conduct.

Sally Port: A secured space inside, or abutting a facility, for vehicles to deliver or pick up inmates or goods.

Security Perimeter: The outer limits of the facility where construction prevents egress by inmates, or ingress by unauthorized persons or contraband.

Safety (Security) Vestibule: An enclosed space, served by at least two doors, that serves as a passageway between two areas.

Selection Criteria: The rules, standards, or requirements used to make a judgment concerning filling a specific position.

Selection Process: The combination of elements and procedures utilized to make the final decision regarding filling a position, including minimum qualifications (e.g., education, experience, citizenship, residency), written tests, performance tests, oral exams, interviews, background investigation, medical exams, polygraph tests, police academy ratings, personality inventories, psychiatric evaluations, and veteran preferences.

Sexual Assault: Nonconsensual oral, anal, or vaginal penetration by, or union with, the sexual organ of another or by any other object; or the touching of the private body parts of another person (including the genitalia, anus, groin, breast, inner thigh, buttocks, or mouth) for the purpose of sexual gratification.

Special Diets: Special foods provided to comply with medical, religious, or security requirements.

Special Management Inmate: An individual whose behavior presents a serious threat to the safety and security of the facility, staff, general inmate population, or himself/herself. Special handling and/or housing are required to regulate his or her behavior.

Special Management Meals: Meals meeting the minimum daily nutritional requirement, as approved by a physician, or qualified medical staff member, substituted for regular meals in the event an inmate throws food, beverage, food utensils, food trays, or any substance, including human waste with food utensils or trays.

Specialized Training: Training to enhance skills, knowledge and abilities. Specialized training may address supervisory, management and/or executive development training, or it may include technical and job specific subjects (e.g., breathalyzer training, firearms, driving, labor relations, etc.).

Standard: A statement adopted by FCAC which defines, represents, or reflects a desired level of compliance.

Strip Search: Having an inmate remove or arrange some or all of his or her clothing to permit a visual or manual inspection of the genitals, buttocks, anus, breasts, or undergarments of such person.

TRS – Telecommunications Relay Services. TRS permits persons with a hearing or speech disability to use the telephone system via a text telephone (TTY) or other device to call persons with or without such disabilities.

TTY – Text Telephone. A special device that allows people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or speech-impaired to use the telephone to communicate, by allowing them to type messages back and forth to one another instead of talking and listening. A TTY is required at both ends of the conversation in order to communicate.

Valuable Items: Tangible property which exceeds a threshold cost, as determined by the agency.

Value Statements: Organizational values define the acceptable standards which govern the behavior of individuals within the organization. Value statements provide a framework for the collective leadership of organizations to encourage common norms or behavior, which will support the achievement of the organization's goals and mission.

Volunteer: A person who donates his or her time and effort to provide service or labor.

Written Directive: Written documentation used to guide the actions of members and establish facility policy and practices. Examples include General Orders, Standard Operating Procedures, Florida State Statutes, Post Orders, or other program and /or service manuals that prove adherence to a specific standard.
