"Now, more than ever, Emory Police is ready to lead the way on a national level. We all know that more unites us than divides us. In times of crisis, the wise build bridges, while the foolish build barriers. We must find a way to look after one another."

-- Cheryl Elliott, Chief of Police

Assisting Other Law Enforcement table: Midtown numbers are primarily attributed to people presenting at Emory’s emergency department with injuries suffered in other jurisdictions. EPD policy involves determining where the injury occurred and notifying the appropriate agency.
USE OF FORCE

As a guiding principle, EPD policy requires officers to treat others with respect and strive to preserve the dignity of every individual. The use of excessive or unwarranted force or unprofessional conduct by an employee is prohibited.

What is use of force?
Use of force involves actions that an officer considers necessary and reasonable to:
- effect an arrest
- overcome resistance
- protect the officer and others from harm
- control a subject and prevent escape

Use of Force Tactics
- Firearm fired
- Firearm drawn on an individual
- Taser fired
- Taser pressed upon an individual
- Taser pointed at an individual
- Pepper spray used on an individual
- Pepper spray pointed at an individual
- Baton strike
- Baton brandished
- Hands used to strike an individual
- Hands used to subdue an individual*
- Hands used to apply pressure on various points of an individual
- Hands used to restrain an individual*
- Hands used for other purposes

*Using hands to subdue an individual involves taking someone into custody; using hands to restrain involves stopping an individual from committing a specific action.
In January, a sergeant responded to a burglar alarm at the Emory West campus and encountered two men -- one African-American male and one white male -- exiting the building. He drew his service weapon and assumed the "low ready" position until determining the individuals were not armed and cooperative. Both were issued citations and left the property.
