Reasons for disqualification

- Accumulation of points
- Failed maneuvers:
  - Quick stop
  - Backing
  - Turnabout / K-turn / Three-point turn
  - Simulated start/stop on grade
  - Straight-in parking
- Crash
- Dangerous action:
  - Driver license examiner has to intervene or has to take over vehicle during test
  - Vehicle stalls during testing and affects traffic
  - Loses control of vehicle, etc.
- Traffic law violation according to chapter 316 of the Florida statutes (i.e., failing to stop at a stop sign, exceeding the speed limit, failing to comply with the Move Over law, any act subject to a citation, etc.)
- Refusal or lack of cooperation:
  - Refuses to try any maneuver, or states "I can't do that"
  - Offers bribe or "gratuity," which is a second-degree felony (per Florida Statute 838.015) and which is punishable as provided in Florida Statutes 775.082, 775.083, and 775.084
  - Argues heatedly about scoring instead of just discussing scoring
  - Accuses driver license examiner of discrimination or any other abuses

Is this your fourth disqualification? Ensure you are prepared when attempting the driving skills road test a fifth time. If you fail or disqualify during the road test five times within a one-year period, your driving privilege will be suspended for one year. If this happens and you want to challenge the suspension, you must contact the Bureau of Administrative Reviews (BAR) office to request a hearing and gain approval to attempt a sixth driving skills road test. (Note: If a sixth road test is granted and you disqualify during it, you must serve the one-year suspension period before attempting the road test again.)
