A. Handling Personnel Files – The handling of personnel files shall be conducted as follows:

1. The main personnel file will be maintained and stored in the Personnel Bureau's filing room.
2. A second personnel file shall be maintained in divisions/bureaus outside the Personnel Bureau for active DPS employees. Should the employee terminate, the second file must be closed and forwarded to the Personnel Bureau for merging.
3. The only disciplinary documents that can be placed in the personnel file are those which the employee has been provided a copy. Any written response the employee may have submitted will be filed with the document.
 - a. A supervisor has the discretion to maintain a separate file of incidents or examples as a means of documenting certain employee conduct. This file should not be a part of the personnel file unless or until the employee's conduct has exacerbated the situation requiring discipline. In this case, the documentation may become a part of the personnel file as supporting documentation and a copy will be given to the employee.
 - b. All filing of disciplinary documents for commissioned officers will be done in compliance with the Officer's Bill of Rights.

B. Strict Security Measures

1. A minimum of locking file cabinets or desks will be maintained for all personnel files, including that discretionary information maintained by supervisors. If any such information is kept in computer files, the computer system must have a security measure which includes a password for access to the files.
2. An employee may view the contents (except confidential pre-employment documents) of his/her personnel file. This can be accomplished in the presence of an employee designated by the Personnel Bureau Chief or district commander, as applicable. By no means will an employee be left alone with the personnel file. The employee may not remove any item from the file.

PERSONNEL FILES

- a. An employee may have copies made of any item in the file that the employee is permitted to view. There may be a charge for copies.
