Annual leave that is not requested in advance may be denied by the supervisor on that basis alone. Requests of less than five (5) days may be submitted any time prior to usage. More restrictive notice requirements may be implemented due to legitimate operational needs, such as 24/7 operations and ensuring adequate office coverage, and must be consistently applied.
2. Annual leave will be approved subject to the legitimate operational needs of the Department. The Department may cancel previously approved leave requests only in the event of an unforeseen circumstance which requires cancellation of the leave to meet critical operational needs.
3. Annual leave may be substituted for sick leave under the same terms as sick leave if all sick leave balances have been exhausted.
4. For employees covered by a collective bargaining agreement, annual leave will be administered subject to the provisions of that agreement.

6. Classified employees, except those on full-time educational leave with pay, absence without leave, leave without pay, unpaid FMLA leave, or suspension without pay will accrue annual leave at the following rates per pay period:
 - a. 3.08 hours per pay period if less than three (3) years of cumulative employment,
 - b. 3.69 hours per pay period if three (3) years or more but less than seven (7) years of cumulative employment,

- a. An employee may use sick leave for personal medical treatment or illness, for medical treatment or illness of a relation by blood or marriage within the third degree or of a person residing in the employee's household.
- b. Employees affected by pregnancy, childbirth, and related medical conditions will be treated the same as persons affected by other medical conditions.

- b. When the timing of the leave is foreseeable for fewer than thirty (30) days prior to the leave, the employee must provide the notice of the need for leave within two (2) business days after knowing of the need for leave or as soon as practicable.
- c. Sick leave for unanticipated medical conditions, injury or illness will be reported to the supervisor in accordance with the following guidelines:
 - i. Non-mission critical employees shall call the number designated by the direct supervisor at their earliest opportunity and no later than thirty (30) minutes after the scheduled beginning of their workday/shift.
 - ii. Mission critical employees shall call the supervisor on duty at least two (2) hours before the beginning of their workday/shift.
 - iii. Non-mission critical employees who work evening or night shifts shall call the number designated by the direct supervisor no later than thirty (30) minutes before the scheduled beginning of their workday/shift.
 - iv. Employees shall follow any additional processes for calling in (i.e. text, email) as directed by their supervisors or other authorized manager.
- d. When requesting leave for a FMLA-qualifying reason for which the Department has previously provided FMLA leave, the employee must specifically request the need for FMLA leave.

4. Certification: Employees may be required to submit certification or a written health care provider's excuse under the following conditions:

- a. When the employee has been absent four (4) or more consecutive workdays;
- b. When the employee or the covered family member being cared for by the employee has a serious health condition or chronic condition as defined in 5.0;
- c. When there is reasonable suspicion of sick leave abuse or there is a habitually low maintenance of sick leave balance and the employee has received counseling that a health care certification may be required in the future.

5. Fitness for Duty: Before the employee returns to work from sick leave for the employee's own serious health condition, the employee may be required to submit a fitness for duty and/or return to work – modified duty or full duty status certification from the employee's health care provider, with respect to the condition for which the leave was taken, stating that the employee is able to resume work. The certification requirement must be consistent across all circumstances under which leave may be taken (sick, FMLA, etc.).

ABSENCES FROM WORK

6. Sick leave is an employer provided benefit but does not imply a property right.
7. Supervisor's responsibilities:
 - a. When an employee calls in to request sick leave, supervisors shall ask the following questions to clarify what type of leave is being requested:
 - i. What is the condition? (supervisors may not inquire as to the specific diagnosis, but may inquire about the general condition and/or if the condition meets the definitions in 5.0 of a "serious health condition," and /or "chronic condition" and/or if absence is to care for an eligible person listed in 6.B.2.a)
 - ii. Have you seen or are you scheduled to see a doctor?
 - iii. How long will you be out?
 - b. Any period of sick leave and/or annual leave that is being used for sick-related purposes when sick leave is exhausted, that is requested under the following conditions or circumstances must be reported by the supervisor directly to the Human Resources Director (or designee) within one (1) work day of the supervisor's knowledge of the reason or potentially qualifying circumstance for the leave:
 - i. For a serious health condition or chronic condition as defined in 5.0;
 - ii. To care for a seriously ill family member (spouse, parent, son, or daughter, as defined in 5.0);
 - iii. For pregnancy or bonding with a newborn/newly placed child; or
 - iv. Any period of continuous leave that is, or is projected to be, in excess of three (3) consecutive working days.
8. Annual and compensatory leave may be substituted for sick leave under the same terms as sick leave only if all sick leave balances have been exhausted.
9. Leave Abuse: The following are instances or events that may be considered by the supervisor and/or by the Human Resources Bureau in determining if an employee is abusing leave. This list is not exhaustive. The supervisor and/or the Human Resources Bureau should take into consideration all relevant factors and circumstances before determining or acting on leave abuse.
 - a. A pattern of calling in or requesting sick leave on certain days of the week.
 - b. A pattern of calling in or requesting sick leave prior to or following scheduled days off, holidays, weekends, and pay days.
 - c. A request for another type of leave has been denied and the employee calls in sick for the same period.
 - d. The employee continually uses sick leave as quickly as he or she has earned it.
 - e. A pattern of calling in or requesting sick leave for several days at a time.

ABSENCES FROM WORK

- f. One (1) instance of absence without leave.
 - g. Leave without pay if paid leave balances have been exhausted.
10. Failure to comply with the terms of 6.B “Sick Leave” may result in the denial of paid leave benefits and the timesheet coded as absence without leave.
 11. For requested leave donations, a history of leave abuse will result in a cap on the amount of approved donated leave or denial of a request for donated leave as set forth in 6.D.
 12. No payment will be made for accrued sick leave at the time of separation from service except as provided by law.

C. Short Term/Long Term Disability Benefits

1. Employees with one (1) year of service who have contributed to the state’s short term disability for the past twelve (12) months may be eligible for short term disability insurance in the event of a serious health condition that prevents the employee from working. Short term disability benefits provide up to 60% of the employee’s pre-disability income while on full-time leave for a period of up to twenty-four (24) weeks, depending upon the condition.
2. Long term disability benefits may be provided under the state’s long term disability plan for disabilities that are longer than twenty-four (24) weeks in duration. Benefits provided are up to 40% of the employee’s pre-disability income.
3. All requests for short term or long term disability benefits must be submitted to the Human Resources Bureau for review and coordination with other benefits.
4. All short term and long term benefits are subject to the provisions of the plan as delivered and administered through the Risk Management Division of the General Services Department at the time of the disability.

D. Annual Leave/Sick Leave Donations

1. Eligibility

- a. It is the policy of the Department of Public Safety to allow Department employees that have a history of responsible leave usage to receive leave donated by DPS employees for a medical emergency where a medical emergency prevents an employee from working and the employee has exhausted all leave balances. Employees are strongly encouraged to maintain at least forty (40) hours of accrued leave in their account balances.
- b. The Department extends the request process to situations for the medical emergency of a relation by blood or marriage within the third degree, or of a person residing in the employee’s household, when the employee is needed to care for the relation and is therefore prevented from working.
- c. Leave donation requests will be disapproved for employees who have received written documentation for abuse of leave in the prior twenty-four (24) months of such request in accordance with 6.B.9.

ABSENCES FROM WORK

- d. Leave donation requests will be capped at one-half of the employee's regular weekly work schedule whose leave usage reflects a history of abuse of leave in accordance with 6.B.9 in the prior twenty-four (24) months of such request.
- e. Leave donation requests for employees receiving workers' compensation pay at or above twenty-four (24) hours per week whose leave usage reflects a history of abuse of leave in accordance with 6.B.9 in the prior twenty-four (24) months of such request will be capped at one-half of the balance of the employee's regular weekly work schedule that is not paid by workers' compensation.
- f. Leave donations will be prorated by DPS payroll for employees who do not receive sufficient donations to cover the length of absence indicated by their medical provider to ensure medical premiums are paid. Such proration will be automatic, unless otherwise instructed by the employee.
- g. Leave approved as FMLA or as a reasonable ADA accommodation does not constitute leave abuse. Employees are responsible for requesting FMLA and/or ADA accommodation for qualifying conditions as set forth by DPS policy or law.

2. Requesting Donated Leave

- a. An employee or designee requesting donated leave must initiate a written request and supply a Certification of Health Care Provider Form (or other agreed upon form) to include the nature, severity, and anticipated duration of the medical condition.
- b. The work order and IDC requesting donated leave will be submitted through the employee's chain of command. The medical certification/documentation must be submitted directly to the Human Resources Bureau via confidential mail or fax with a copy of the IDC.
- c. The Human Resources Bureau will conduct a review of the Certification of Health Care Provider Form (or other agreed upon form) to determine eligibility, will conduct a review of the requesting employee's leave history, and forward to the Secretary with a recommendation in accordance with this policy for approval, approval with a cap, or disapproval.
- d. Final approval will be given by the Secretary.
- e. Donation of leave may be approved for a maximum of one thousand forty (1040) hours per request. A new request for annual leave donation may be submitted when the hours from the initial request are near exhaustion.
- f. Donated leave is not an employer-provided benefit accrued by the employee. The transfer of donated leave is strictly a volunteer donation from fellow Department of Public Safety employees. The Department acts as the agent in transferring the donated leave from one (1) employee to another and is not responsible for initiating such requests.

ABSENCES FROM WORK

- g. Donated leave will not be approved retroactively except under exceptional circumstances.

3. Use of Donated Leave

- a. Employees may not use donated leave until first exhausting all accrued annual leave, sick leave, compensatory time, personal holiday, holiday compensatory time, holiday accrued, and administrative compensatory time. In addition, any leave accrued while on leave donation shall be exhausted on a per pay period basis.
 - b. Any unused donated leave will be reverted back to the donor in the same form of leave that was donated on a pro-rated basis. Leave will revert back when the medical emergency ends or when the receiving employee separates from the agency, whichever occurs first.
 - c. The employee becomes ineligible to use donated leave upon return to work, unless intermittent leave or a reduced work schedule is requested and approved prior to returning to work. Intermittent leave requests must have medical documentation to support the use of intermittent leave. Intermittent donated leave may only be used for the medical condition for which donated leave was approved. Intermittent donated leave will be rescinded upon completion of the timeframe parameters set forth in the Certification of Health Care Provider form (or other agreed upon form) or three (3) months following return to work, whichever is lesser.
4. The amount of any leave donations shall not create or imply a right to leave. The Department will rescind approved donated leave upon determination of leave abuse, when leave is not judicially used for reasons not related to the medical condition, and/or when the employee has attained a balance of forty (40) hours of combined leave.
5. Donations of sick leave may be made only once per fiscal year on either the pay date immediately following the first full pay period in January or the first full pay period in July, unless the employee is retiring. No more than one hundred twenty (120) hours of sick leave, or four hundred (400) hours upon retirement, of sick leave balances in excess of six hundred (600) may be donated by an employee. The dollar value of the transferred sick leave shall equal 50% of the monetary value of the total hours transferred by the donor employee.

ABSENCES FROM WORK

- iii. Leave for unanticipated medical FMLA qualifying reasons will be reported to the supervisor in accordance with 6.B “Sick Leave.”
 - b. Military Exigency Leave: An employee must give notice of the need for exigency leave as soon as practicable, depending on the facts and circumstances, regardless of how far in advance such leave is foreseeable.
- 8. Requests for FMLA Leave
- a. An employee should request FMLA leave by completing a Request for Leave Form and submitting it to their direct supervisor.
 - b. FMLA requests, and any accompanying certifications, must be submitted to the Human Resources Bureau immediately upon receipt. Medical certifications must be handled and submitted in accordance with 6.E.10 “Required Certifications” below.
 - c. Requests for FMLA leave may be submitted without the certification; however, certifications will be required within fifteen (15) calendar days of the provision of the FMLA eligibility notice.
 - d. Verbal or electronic notice is sufficient to inform the supervisor that the employee will need the FMLA leave. If the employee has not submitted a request for FMLA leave, the supervisor must immediately contact HRB to provide the facts surrounding the request.
 - e. When an employee seeks leave for the first time for a FMLA-qualifying reason, the employee need not expressly mention the FMLA.
 - f. When requesting leave for a FMLA-qualifying reason for which the Department has previously provided FMLA leave, the employee must specifically request the need for FMLA leave.
 - g. Supervisors will be responsible for keeping the chain of command informed of such requests without violating confidentiality of medical information.
- 9. Designation of Leave as FMLA Leave
- a. When the Department receives a request for FMLA leave or identifies leave as potentially qualifying for FMLA the Department will provide the employee with information regarding their eligibility, rights, and responsibilities under FMLA.
 - b. When the Human Resources Bureau receives information that the employee is absent for work for reasons that would qualify for FMLA, the Human Resources Bureau may designate the leave as FMLA based upon the information known about the reasons for the leave.
 - c. If the employee has not verbally designated qualifying exigency FMLA leave as such, the supervisor may designate the leave as exigency leave based upon the known circumstances for the leave and must immediately notify the HRB of the request and approval.

ABSENCES FROM WORK

- d. The designation of leave as qualifying for FMLA may be given on a provisional basis pending receipt of the appropriate or complete certification and/or documentation.
- e. The designation of FMLA qualifying leave may be made retroactively so long as the employee's rights for FMLA leave are preserved.
- f. If the employee has not notified the Department of the reason for the leave, and the employee desires that leave be counted as FMLA leave, the employee must notify their supervisor within two (2) business days of the employee's return to work that the leave was for a FMLA reason, and if not previously provided, produce appropriate and/or required documentation in a timely manner.

10. Required Certifications

a. Medical Leave

- i. Employees are required to submit medical certification on the Certification of Health Care Provider Form or, for Military Caregiver Leave, on the Certification for Serious Injury or Illness of Covered Service Member, from a health care provider to support a request for FMLA leave for the employee's, or a family member's, serious health condition. Such certification must be complete and sufficient, providing all requested information.
- ii. FMLA medical certifications must be sent directly to the Human Resources Bureau in a sealed envelope marked "confidential" or faxed or scanned by the employee directly to the Human Resources Bureau – do not send the Request for Leave and medical certification "up through the chain" of supervision.
- iii. During medical FMLA leave (except Military Caregiver Leave), the Department may request that the employee provide recertification of a serious health condition as provided for under the FMLA.
- iv. Before the employee returns to work from FMLA leave for the employee's own serious health condition, the employee may be required to submit a fitness for duty certification from the employee's health care provider, with respect to the condition for which the leave was taken, stating that the employee is able to resume work and can perform the essential functions of the job. The employee will be notified upon designation of FMLA qualifying leave whether a fitness for duty certification will be required.

b. Exigency Leave

- i. The first time an employee requests leave for a qualifying exigency FMLA leave because of covered active duty or a call or order to active duty of a military member, the request will require either certification of the service members' active duty orders or certification obtained from a health care provider not affiliated with the military as defined in 5.0.H.

ABSENCES FROM WORK

- ii. For exigency FMLA leave the Department may require that the employee sign a Certification of Qualifying Exigency Form that provides a description of the facts regarding the exigency that are sufficient to support the need for the leave.
- c. Time limit to produce certification: The minimum amount of time to be allowed an employee to produce a certification is fifteen (15) calendar days. If the employee deliberately fails to provide the requested information, the leave may not be job-protected under the FMLA.
- d. Incomplete certification: If the certification is incomplete or insufficient, the Human Resource Manager (or designee) will:
 - i. Provide the employee with written notice of what specific information is still needed and give the employee seven (7) calendar days to cure the deficiencies; or
 - ii. Contact the employee's health care provider to clarify or authenticate the certification (in which case the employee may be asked to provide a release of medical [HIPAA] form for consent);
 - iii. For exigency certification, contact an appropriate Department of Defense unit to verify the military member is on covered active duty or call to covered active duty status or verify the meeting or appointment schedule; and/or
 - iv. If the validity of the initial medical certification is doubted, require the employee to obtain a second opinion by an independent provider at the Department's expense. If the initial and second certifications differ, the Department may, at its expense, require the employee to obtain a third, final and binding certification from a jointly selected health care provider. Second opinions will not be requested in the case of Military Caregiver Leave.
- e. While on FMLA leave, the employee may be required to provide periodic reports regarding the employee's status and intent to return to work. If the employee's anticipated return to work date changes and it becomes necessary for the employee to take more or less leave than originally anticipated, the employee must provide reasonable notice (i.e., within two [2] business days) of the employee's changed circumstances and new return to work date.
- f. If the employee gives notice of the employee's intent not to return to work, the employee will be considered to have voluntarily resigned.
- g. The Department may require the employee to provide documentation or statement of family relationship (e.g., birth certificate or court document) when requesting FMLA leave.
- h. FMLA leave or return to work may be delayed or denied if the complete and appropriate documentation is not provided in a timely manner. Also, a failure by the employee to timely provide requested documentation of the reason for an absence from work, or to provide a requested Authorization for the Release of Medical Information in order for the Department to obtain a second or third opinion, is cause to code the employee's leave as AWOL and lead to termination of employment.

11. Use of Paid Leave, Disability Benefits, Workers' Compensation Indemnity Benefits, and Unpaid Leave during FMLA

- a. FMLA provides eligible employees with up to twelve (12) (twenty-six [26] weeks for care of injured military service member) weeks of unpaid leave. If an employee has accrued paid leave (i.e., vacation, sick leave, personal leave, compensatory leave, donated sick or annual leave, or holiday paid leave or holiday accrued leave subject to the limitations below), the employee must use any available qualifying paid leave concurrently as FMLA leave up to the extent that any disability or workers' compensation benefits are not replacing paid leave time. If an employee does not have sufficient paid leave balances to receive the equivalent of regularly scheduled pay, the Human Resources Bureau will assist the employee in scheduling the substitution of paid leave to maximize payment of benefit premiums during the leave period.
- b. The substitution of paid leave will be subject to the terms and conditions of such leave usage outlined in 6.B "Sick Leave" for FMLA medical leave. The substitution of disability benefits and workers' compensation indemnity benefits will be subject to the terms and conditions of these benefit plans. Employees choosing not to meet these conditions remain otherwise entitled to unpaid FMLA leave.
- c. Employees on military exigency leave will use paid annual, compensatory, personal day, and/or holiday paid leave unless the reason for the exigency leave qualifies for the use of sick leave under 6.B.
- d. The substitution of paid leave and/or workers' compensation indemnity or disability payments for unpaid leave does not extend the leave period.
- e. Paid holiday leave and holiday leave accrued taken that occurs while an employee is out on FMLA shall not count towards the week entitlement for FMLA unless the employee is out on FMLA leave for the full normal workweek.

12. Maintenance of Health Benefits

- a. During FMLA leave an employee is entitled to continued group health plan coverage under the same conditions as if the employee had continued to work.
- b. To the extent that an employee's FMLA leave is paid leave by use of vacation, sick leave, etc., the employee's portion of health insurance premiums will be deducted from the employee's salary.
- c. If the employee does not return to work and terminates employment, any amounts due the State for health insurance will be deducted from any final pay due the employee (such as from pay-outs of annual leave) as permissible; otherwise, the terminated employee may pay the portion via certified check.

13. Return from FMLA Leave

ABSENCES FROM WORK

- a. Upon return from FMLA leave, the Department will place the employee in the same position the employee held before the leave or an equivalent position with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms.
 - b. An employee is entitled to reinstatement only if he or she would have continued to be employed had FMLA leave not been taken. Thus, an employee is not entitled to reinstatement if, because of a layoff, reduction in force or other reason, the employee would not be employed at the time job restoration is sought.
 - c. An employee released to return to work before the approved ending date of the family medical leave will be required to give the supervisor a minimum of two (2) working days advance notification before the planned return.
14. Failure To Return To Work Following FMLA Leave – If the employee does not return to work following the conclusion of FMLA leave, the employee will be considered to have voluntarily resigned.
15. Confidentiality and Administrative Issues
- a. All certifications and FMLA requests must be sent directly to the Human Resources Bureau to maintain confidentiality and ensure compliance with law.
 - b. All medical records, medical certifications, and correspondence relating to employees and/or families are considered “confidential” and are to be kept only by the Human Resources Bureau in a separate file and are to be kept in a locked file cabinet or secured file room.
 - c. Required re-certifications and return to work certifications must be submitted directly to the Human Resources Bureau to preserve confidentiality and ensure compliance with law.
16. Coordination of FMLA with Workers’ Compensation and the ADA
- a. Where eligible and relevant, FMLA contains some job reinstatement guarantees that are not necessarily contained within Workers’ Compensation benefits. Therefore, where an eligible employee misses time from work due to a work-related injury that is also considered a serious health condition as defined by the FMLA, the employee may avail him/herself of the FMLA guarantees by requesting FMLA designation of any time missed from work. Should the employee fail to do so, the Department may designate time missed as FMLA time and, if so, will notify the employee.
 - b. An employee on FMLA with a work-related serious medical condition who is released to return to work with medical restrictions may refuse an offer of light duty and remain on FMLA leave until fully released or all FMLA eligibility exhausts, whichever occurs first. However, refusal of a light duty assignment may result in a discontinuance of benefits under Workers’ Compensation.
 - c. The ADA requires that employers reasonably accommodate employees who have qualifying disabilities. On occasion, an employee will return from FMLA or Workers’ Compensation leave with a residual disability and will request an additional leave accommodation, such as reduced work hours or work days, for a specific period of time.

- i. If the FMLA allowance has not been exhausted, a qualifying request for reduced work hours/days will be granted as FMLA leave until the allowance has been completely used as part of the job reinstatement guarantee inherent in FMLA.
- ii. Additional non-FMLA leave not otherwise provided for under the provisions set forth under PRS: 19 Modified/Limited Duty may be granted as an ADA accommodation if deemed a reasonable accommodation that does not cause undue hardship to the Department and for which a healthcare provider has certified a reasonable fixed and finite date on which the employee can perform the essential functions of their pre-injury/pre-illness position, with or without a reasonable accommodation.
- iii. Supervisors should follow processes as guided by the DPS ADA Coordinator, to determine if the requested accommodation is reasonable.

17. Retaliation - Supervisors are advised that retaliation against an employee who has, or plans to use, FMLA is prohibited. If, as a result of using the FMLA benefit, an employee feels he or she is the subject of any adverse employment action, he or she should contact the Human Resources Bureau immediately. For further information or clarification about FMLA leave, please contact your assigned HR Representative at the Human Resources Bureau.

F. Modified/Limited Duty Assignment - Employees who are unable to perform their regular duties because of an illness or injury that are released by their health care provider to work full or part time with restrictions may be afforded modified or light duty return to work opportunities whenever possible. Refer to PRS: 19 Modified/Limited Duty for further details.

G. Leave Without Pay (Non-Medical)

1. The Department may approve leave without pay in situations where the employee is required to, or requests to, be absent from work and the employee has met all the requirements as outlined in this policy. The Department may grant leave without pay for a lesser period than requested. Leave without pay may be granted only if workplace efficiency can be maintained and the Department can guarantee a position of like status, pay, and geographic location upon return, or the employee agrees in writing to waive that requirement.
2. Requests for leave without pay exceeding thirty (30) days require approval by the Secretary or designee.
3. Requests for leave without pay not exceeding thirty (30) days require approval by the Division Director or Deputy Secretary or their designees.
4. The duration of leave without pay shall be in accordance with State Personnel Board Rules for classified employees.

ABSENCES FROM WORK

6. The following guidelines are used in the processing of a leave without pay request.

The notice provides the specific reason(s) for the request, required documentation, and the expected duration of the absence.
 - b. Employees submit requests for leave without pay in writing to the supervisor for review and recommendations for approval. Requests for leave without pay exceeding thirty (30) days, and supervisor recommendations, shall be forwarded to the Cabinet Secretary or designee for consideration. If denied, the supervisor documents the business necessity reason(s).
 - c. An employee who fails to report to work upon expiration of approved leave without pay is considered absent without leave and subject to disciplinary action.
 - d. The Department guarantees a position of like status (permanent, term, or temporary) and pay (not necessarily the same Pay Band), at the same geographic location (not necessarily the same office or position from which the employee left) on the return from leave without pay of an employee who has complied with all the provisions of this policy.

1. The quality and consistency of services provided by the Department shall continue in mission-critical operations. Therefore this section does not apply to employees that work in positions designated as mission-critical.
2. During inclement weather, all DPS employees have the responsibility to report to work on time or as close as possible to their normal work schedule. The work accomplished by employees and the services provided shall continue within the Department.
3. When inclement weather results in unsafe driving conditions, a delay, early release, or office closure may be announced. This decision shall be based on the road and safety conditions at the time, as well as snow removal and sanding of the roadways and highways.
4. Announcement of office openings and/or delays shall be made via local television and radio media. Employees may tune in for these announcements and shall not telephone the Governor's office, the State Personnel Office, or the Office of the Secretary. Employees may call their Division Director's office for information. Early release or office closures during the day will be communicated by State Personnel Office to the Office of the Secretary and Human Resource Bureau, then to each division and to employees by e-mail. When an official announcement has been made regarding a delay, an early release or office closure, employees shall be placed on administrative leave for the office location(s) affected by the inclement weather.
5. Employees who are on approved leave or who call in sick are not entitled to the administrative leave granted for the inclement weather.

9. Individual employees who are unable to report to work due to inclement weather and/or road conditions affecting their commute may request annual leave if there is no official announcement of a delay, early release, or closure.
10. The Division Director or designee may grant administrative leave when an office is open yet the area is experiencing adverse or severe weather conditions and/or road closures.
11. If the request for administrative leave is denied, the employee may request annual or compensatory leave and in the absence of sufficient annual leave, the employee may request leave without pay.
12. Employees are required to call the immediate supervisor in accordance with the timeframes established in the sick leave section of this policy and failure to do so will result in absence without leave (AWOL).
13. The designee who authorized administrative leave due to inclement weather shall inform the Division Director, Cabinet Secretary, and the Human Resources Director.

J. Military Leave

1. Employees who are members of an organized reserve unit or the National Guard ordered to active duty training shall be granted up to fifteen (15) workdays of paid military leave per federal fiscal year.
