ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

POLICY:

It is the policy of the Omaha Police Department (OPD) to assign personnel to organizational components based on the number and type of each position authorized in the Department's budget and workload assessments derived from administrative review.

DEFINITIONS:

Bureau: An organizational component of the Omaha Police Department, attached to a division, with designated jurisdictional coverage.

Office of the Chief: An organizational component of the Omaha Police Department, usually a Unit, with direct responsibility to the Chief of Police.

Organizational Chart: A chart which reflects the chain of command and the lines of authority and communication within the Department.

Organizational Component: A subdivision of the Omaha Police Department, such as an Office, Division, Bureau, Unit, or Squad that is established on a full-time basis to provide a specific function.

Precinct: A geographical location within the city consisting of several sergeant areas.

Relief: Personnel used to temporarily fill vacant posts, districts, or beats.

Squad: A functional part of the Police Department, generally attached to a Unit with a designated jurisdictional coverage. A Squad is any organizational subdivision subordinate to a Unit.

Unit: An organizational component of the Omaha Police Department generally attached to a Bureau, with designated jurisdictional coverage.

PROCEDURE:

I. Organizational Components

A. The OPD is organized into seven main components:

1. Office of the Chief of Police;

2. Criminal Investigations Bureau;

3. Organizational Services Bureau;

4. Police Services Bureau;

5. Professional Oversight and Tactical Operations Bureau;

6. Technical and Reporting Services Bureau; and

7. Uniform Patrol Bureau.

B. The OPD is further organized into full-time, staffed, sub-components called Precincts, Sections, Units, and Squads.

1. Precincts and Sections are equal components in the OPD organizational structure and are commanded by a captain or manager.

2. Units and Squads are normally sub-components of Precincts or Sections, but may report directly to higher levels of command in the OPD organizational structure.

   a. Units are normally commanded by lieutenants, managers, or supervisors.

   b. Squads are normally commanded by sergeants, managers, or supervisors.

C. OPD Bureaus and sub-components may be augmented by "As–Needed Components" (ANC) whose members are not permanently assigned, such as Teams, Guards, Corps, and Forces.

1. Employees assigned to ANC's fall under the control of the chain of command assigned within the ANC when the ANC is activated or conducts training.

2. ANC employees report to their normally assigned chain of command when the ANC is not activated or conducting training.

D. Each Bureau is commanded by a Deputy Chief of Police or Deputy Director.

II. OPD Organizational Structure

A. OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF POLICE.

The Chief of Police commands the overall operations of the Department. The Office of the Chief of Police includes the Public Information Office and the Union Liaison. The Uniform and Equipment Committee and the Fitness and Wellness Committee (FWC) report to the Chief of Police.

1. The Chief of Police has the responsibility of determining Departmental policies and for making certain of the complete discharge of all duties imposed upon them. The Chief of Police is a Department Head under the Omaha Charter and reports directly to the Mayor.

2. The Executive Deputy Chief of Police shall perform administrative and supervisory duties determined by the Chief and shall act as the Chief of Police when the Chief is unavailable.

3. Public Information Office (PIO): The PIO coordinates the dissemination of information to the news media and to the Department and manages the Crime Stoppers Program. All Public Records requested per Nebraska Revised Statutes §84-712 et al., are handled by the PIO. The PIO is commanded by a Lieutenant who reports directly to the Chief of Police.

4. Union Liaison: The position of Union Liaison was created through the Nebraska Court of Industrial Relations. This full-time Union representative shall be assigned under the Office of the Chief, but shall be free to conduct the affairs of the Omaha Police Officers Association. The person assigned to this position shall be selected by the Omaha Police Officers Association as stated in their bargaining agreement. On May 1st of each year, the Union shall advise the Chief of who will hold the full-time Union Liaison position. Any changes to the Union Liaison position mid-year shall be communicated to the Chief no less than thirty (30) days prior to the change.

B. CRIMINAL INVESTIGATIONS BUREAU (CIB).

The Criminal Investigations Bureau (CIB) is commanded by a Deputy Chief and conducts 24-hour investigations into crimes. The CIB is comprised of the Criminal Investigations Section; the Special Investigations Section; and the Special Operations Section. A Captain commands each of the Sections.
