Orange County Sheriff's Office
Post Office Box 1440

Sheriff Mina:

CALEA® Accreditation serves as the International Gold Standard for Public Safety Agencies. This correspondence serves to recognize the Orange County Sheriff's Office has been awarded Law Enforcement Accreditation effective November 16, 2024, for the Tenth time. This award remains in effect for four years and the agency retains all privileges associated with this status during that period.

The process of CALEA Accreditation begins with a rigorous self-assessment, requiring a review of policies, practices, and processes against internationally accepted public safety standards. This is followed with an assessment by independent assessors with significant public safety experience. Additionally, public feedback is received to promote community trust and engagement. Structured interviews are conducted with select agency personnel and others with knowledge to assess the agency's effectiveness and overall service delivery capacities. The decision to accredit is rendered by a governing body of twenty-one Commissioners following a public hearing and review of all reporting documentation.

CALEA Accreditation is a continuous process and serves as the foundation for a successful, well managed, transparent, community-focused public safety agency. To this end, an agency must maintain its accredited status by remaining in compliance with CALEA standards at all times.

CALEA congratulates the Orange County Sheriff's Office for demonstrating a commitment to professional excellence through accreditation. CALEA Accreditation is the Mark of Professional Excellence and should be displayed proudly by those who have earned this honor.

Sincerely,

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Overview:

The Orange County (FL) Sheriff's Office is currently commanded by John W. Mina. The agency participated in a remote assessment(s), as well as site-based assessment activities as components of the accreditation process. The executive summary serves as a synopsis of key findings, with greater details found in the body of the report.

Compliance Services Review:

CALEA Compliance Services Member(s) Mike Dickey remotely reviewed 90 standards for the agency on 11/2/2021 using Law Enforcement Manual 6.13. These standards included specific time-sensitive issues, as well as all standards applicable to the agency by size and function. If standard issues are found they are listed below.

- 1.2.10 – Duty to Intervene (LE1) (MMMM) – ISSUE: The agency's directive is directed to deputies rather than employees as required by the standard. Additionally, it appears that the second part of the standard, "or if they become aware of any violation of departmental policy, state/provincial or federal law, or local ordinance," only applies to non-sworn personnel. AGENCY ACTION NEEDED: It is recommended that the agency's directive be amended to make clear that any "employee or public safety associate" is required to intervene to the extent reasonable and at a minimum notify appropriate supervisory authority, and that the language be made clear that all employees are required to adhere to report violations of departmental policy, state/provincial or federal law, or local ordinance. AGENCY ACTION TAKEN: The agency amended the directive to apply to "all employees" rather than officers and of the duty to report violations of of departmental policy, state/provincial or federal law, or local ordinance." It is recommended that this standard be reviewed again in future assessments to verify compliance.

CALEA Compliance Services Member(s) Russ McElwee remotely reviewed 149 standards for the agency on 2/1/2023 using Law Enforcement Manual 6.17. These standards included specific time-sensitive issues, as well as all standards applicable to the agency by size and function. If standard issues are found they are listed below.

- 1.2.10 – Duty to Intervene (LE1) (MMMM) – FOLLOW UP: During the Year 1 Review it was found the agency's directive is directed to deputies rather than employees as required by the standard. Additionally, it appears that the second part of the standard, "or if they become aware of any violation of departmental policy, state/provincial or federal law, or local ordinance," only applies to non-sworn personnel. During that same review period, the agency amended the directive to apply to "all employees" rather than officers and of the duty to report violations of departmental policy, state/provincial or federal law, or local ordinance." During the Year 2 review it was found the agency policy was in compliance with the standard. The agency provided appropriate proofs of compliance for this standard for both Year 1 and the current Year 2 review. The agency is now in compliance with the standard.

CALEA Compliance Services Member(s) N/A remotely reviewed 103 standards for the agency on 11/3/2023 using Law Enforcement Manual 6.17. These standards included specific time-sensitive issues, as well as all standards applicable to the agency by size and function. If standard issues are found they are listed below.

From 7/15/2024 to 7/18/2024, Charles Walters (Assessor), Christi Asbe (Assessor) visited the agency following a consultation with the chief executive officer regarding critical issues impacting the organization since the last assessment.

Findings:

During the Site-Based Assessment Review, the assessment team conducted 71 interviews regarding the topical areas previously defined. The interviews were with agency members and members of the community. The approach not only further confirmed standards adherence, but also considered effectiveness measures, process management and intended outcomes.

COMMUNITY PROFILE

Located in Central Florida, Orange County includes the city of Orlando which is the county seat and a dozen other incorporated municipalities. Orange County is included in the Orlando-Kissimmee-Sanford, Florida Metropolitan Statistical Area. The county has a total area of 1,003 square miles which includes 100 square miles of water. Smart economic growth has positioned the county as one of the highest performing regions in the nation. Excellent quality of life, world famous attractions, the nation's second largest convention center and locally headquartered Fortune 500 companies make Orange County one of the best places to live, work and visit.

The county functions under a charter form of government. The charter serves as a constitution, detailing the structure and operations of local government. Orange County is served by a board of commissioners. The board consists of an elected mayor and six commissioners. The mayor is elected countywide, while commissioners are elected from single districts. The mayor and commissioners each serve staggered four year terms.

AGENCY HISTORY

It was on January 31, 1845 that Orange County was carved out of a vast territorial and largely undeveloped region of the state known as Mosquito County. The county lived in relative obscurity until the citrus industry put it on the map and made it one of the country's most prolific and best known orange and grapefruit producing regions. Snowbirds from the northern tier states would ride the railroads, follow the sweet scent of the orange blossoms, and find their way to the area while a handful of commercial concerns associated with America's fledgling space program would be the first signs of the explosive growth that we now associate with Orange County. The mouse, the whale, and the folks who make the movies sealed the deal to put the county on the world map as one of its premier tourist destinations.

In 1845, the Orange County Sheriff's Office was born and William Henry Williams became the agency's first Sheriff and the principle law enforcement officer for a wide open, rough, and tough piece of the state. His duties were diverse, his office was unfunded, and, by all accounts, Sheriff Williams never enjoyed the benefit of a regular paycheck.

Orange County has had 27 individuals elected to the position of Sheriff, when Sheriff John Mina was elected to the position in November 2018. Sheriff Jerry L. Deming's became the first African-American to serve as Sheriff. The first African-American deputies, Louis Crooms and Leroy Williams, were hired in 1963 and the first female deputy, Jo Ann Hardee, was hired in 1970.

Sheriff David Mizell was the first member of the Orange County Sheriff's Office killed in the line of duty in 1870. The Orange County Sheriff's Office has had 18 deputies killed in the line of duty, with Deputy Norman Lewis being the last in 2017.

AGENCY STRUCTURE AND FUNCTION

This large and complex agency is organized into areas of functional responsibilities. The Office of the Sheriff provides various specialized, managerial and executive services and is composed of the Sheriff, the Office of Undersheriff, the staff director and legal services.

The Office of the Undersheriff is responsible for administration and support for the sheriff. Reporting directly to the Undersheriff are Professional Standards, Fiscal Management, Strategic Communications, Central Florida Intelligence Exchange/Intelligence, Metropolitan Bureau of Investigations, the Operational Services Bureau, and the Administrative Services Bureau.

The Operational Services Bureau is responsible for the agency's law enforcement operational components. The Divisions reporting directly to the Operational Services Bureau Chief Deputy are the Uniform Patrol Division, Criminal Investigations Division, Special Operations Division, and the HRIC section.

The Administrative Services Bureau is responsible for the agency's law enforcement operation's support system components. The Divisions reporting directly to the Administrative Services Bureau Chief Deputy are the Human Resources Division, Court Services/Communications Division, and the Support Services Division.

AGENCY SUCCESSES

This year, the men and women of the Orange County Sheriff's Office continued to face the unique hardships of a pandemic as we gradually returned to normal operations at all of our county facilities.

In response to nationwide accountability of law enforcement, our sworn personnel received implicit bias training as well as de-escalation training at our simulator. As an agency, we have established trust in our community and continue our pledge to be transparent.

The Behavioral Response Unit was introduced to our community and through their efforts, funding was approved to expand the unit. This groundbreaking concept has drawn nationwide attention and vastly improved how we respond to those in mental health crisis.

The inaugural year of Community Crime Prevention Grants kicked off with over $100,000 from the Law Enforcement Trust Fund. This fund consists of forfeitures from illegal proceeds and awarded to local non-profits in the areas of crime prevention, safe neighborhood initiatives or drug abuse prevention. This is a great example of how your crime fighting efforts provide positive results in improving the lives of the people we serve.

FUTURE ISSUES FOR AGENCY

As Sheriff, his priorities are making Orange County an even better and safer place to live, work and visit; building greater connections and trust throughout the community; and ensuring deputies have the best training, equipment and technology available.

As an agency, we have committed to a nationwide initiative to continue hiring a diverse work force and to increase the representation of women in policing to 30% by 2030.

Response from Agency Regarding Findings:

The Orange County Sheriff's Office immediately had a duty to intervene policy in place (June of 2020). The policy had sworn personnel and that was rectified, as there are a few civilian personnel that are trained in self-defense tactics.

Area of Interest: Pursuits

Executive Summary: This area of interest was suggested by the agency as an area to review based on the high liability nature of vehicle pursuits. The written directive utilized by the agency in meeting the standards clearly define the conditions that permit pursuits by personnel, provides for vehicle high speed drivers training that supports safe operations, requires a report regarding the pursuit detailing all aspects of the pursuit, a comprehensive evaluation of each pursuit by supervisors, command staff and subject matter experts. A complete report of each to the pursuit is provided to the pursuit policy subject matter expert, who prepares an annual report of findings relating to policy compliance.

Details of Review/Interviews: The Accreditation Manager arranged for two interviews with agency personnel. Sergeant Michael Rosignol who is the Law Enforcement Vehicle Operations (LEVO) specialist. He coordinates all training relating to emergency vehicle operations which includes the basic academy high speed vehicle operations training as well as in-service training every two years on pursuit driving. Training includes the written directive pursuit policies of the agency, high speed vehicle operations, communications during the pursuits, the use of roadblocks and forcible stopping techniques, primary and secondary officer responsibilities, supervisory and command level responsibilities, pursuit terminations, supervisory and command staff reviews, use of body and in-car camera systems as well as the pursuit reporting requirements. Sergeant Rosignol advised that the initial training in the basic academy involves 40 hours of training that includes eight hours of classroom and 32 hours of actual behind the wheel training. Officers receive in-service training every two years that involves either classroom or actual behind the wheel training (or a combination of both). That training consists of refresher training on the agency written directive, any relevant legal issues surrounding pursuits as well as any trends related to errors or deviations from those written directives.

Corporal Alan Hadley is a patrol supervisor responsible for reviewing all reports, and actions, to include pursuit reports, that occur on his shift. Corporal Hadley advised that he relies heavily on the “Drive Cam” system to assist with those reviews. “Drive Cam” is the agencies in-car video recording system. The system activates anytime the squad car lights and siren are activated and in fact, backs-up the recording for six seconds before activation to record the reason for the activation. The system is also activated any time there are any sudden vehicle movements – sudden braking, hard acceleration, sharp turns, etc. After reviewing all reports and video files, Corporal Hadley signs off on the report and forwards that incident report up his chain of command. That chain of command includes direct supervisors as well as the agency police attorney and Sergeant Michael Rosignol, who is the training supervisor for the Law Enforcement Vehicle Operations (LEVO) specialist. That chain of command review will determine if policy is followed or if there is a violation of policy and the corrective action needed to prevent future violations.

Accreditation Manager John Farrell, Policy Accreditation Coordinators Heather Dublonsky and Kimberly Boothe, were interviewed regarding the process for policy revisions. Mr. Farrell advised that all agency policies and procedures are reviewed annually by subject matter experts. Anytime a policy needs revision, that policy is forwarded to the agency Policy Review Committee. That committee is comprised of six Majors from across the agency, representatives from the Police Attorney’s Office and Internal Affairs. The Accreditation Manager also sits on that committee. Any revision required by the agency is extensively reviewed by that committee, reviewed by subject matter experts and the Accreditation Manager (for compliance with CALEA standards) prior to being approved by the Office of the Sheriff.

Area of Interest: Mental Illness

Executive Summary: This area of interest was suggested by the agency as an area to review based innovation and statewide recognition of the Behavioral Response Unit’s training and implementation. The written directive utilized by the agency in meeting the standards clearly define the response protocols for agency personnel responding to calls for service involving mental illness behaviors, provides for training agency personnel on recognizing, proper response actions, resources available to field patrol units and a comprehensive review and evaluation of each call for service involving agency response to mental illness.

Details of Review/Interviews: The Accreditation Manager arranged for two interviews with agency personnel to include Sergeant Bruce Vail, supervisor of the Behavioral Response Unit (BRU). Sergeant Vail coordinates all training relating to the BRU training as well as training any employee that may engage with a person experiencing mental illness. The BRU responds to any call involving a person in a mental health crisis and operates as a two-person team. One is a trained mental health clinician from Devereux Advanced Behavioral Health and the other is an Orange County Deputy Sheriff that has received Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) training. This effort began in December of 2020 and consisted of only two teams. The clinicians are mental health professionals and the deputies all are CIT trained, each receiving 40 hours of Crisis Intervention Team training. Before being released for call response, the clinicians and the BRU deputies participated in an additional 40 hours of specialized Behavioral Response Unit training, which involved response protocols, resources available and follow-up responsibilities.

The clinicians do most of the interactions. The deputies are a resource to the clinician, but mainly handle situational awareness and other people at the response scene. The deputies will make sure the clinician and the area are safe. The Clinician can refer to community-based resources for substance abuse, mental health issues and veteran PTSD assistance. The agency tries to utilize a CIT trained veteran deputy for those responses.

The first year the BRU operated with two teams. That increased to three teams in year 3 and four teams in year 4. They are now prepping up for 10 teams once funding is received. The entire agency is trained on the resources offered by the BRU. The agency plans to have every patrol deputy trained in CIT response by the end of the year.

Corporal Alan Hadley advised the BRU is an excellent resource for field patrol deputies. The unit not only relieves them from the call once they arrive, but there seems to be a reduction in the number of calls received due to the resources provided and the immediacy of the person in crisis receiving those resources. Patrol supervisors review all mental health calls for service to ensure the deputies are performing up to expectations. They review body camera and reports and any deputy that may need refresher training on those responses are referred to the BRU for additional training.

Patrol Deputies are also receiving training in Autism response as well as response to veterans suffering from PTSD.

Findings: The agency is in compliance with all standards relating to the pursuit of motor vehicles as well as the response to mental illness calls for service. The agency has developed a comprehensive review of both pursuits and mental health calls for service that lend themselves to revision of agency general orders and directives as well as initial and in-service training of deputies and supervisors. The review systems implemented by the agency allow supervisors to quickly identify weaknesses in personnel performance and recommend the correct corrective action. The command staff review processes allow for an in-depth review of necessary changes in agency policy and training with the intent of preventing policy violations and improved agency response to those calls for service. Those review processes also allow for extremely detailed data collection which further enable the agency to analyze not only corrective actions but also success stories that can be utilized in training. Every supervisor and deputy interviewed showed understanding of the policy and the actions that must be taken to ensure the success of their mission.

Public Portal Summary: The compliance review of the Orange County Sheriff's Office (FL) occurred the week of January 20, 2023. The Public Portal standard was effective on January 1, 2023. As such, the agency did not have the opportunity to develop and post the public portal. However, the agency does maintain a link on their website that allows for commending an employee as well as filing a complaint. The agency also conducts a survey of stakeholders as required by the standard.

Area of Interest: Juvenile Programs and Outreach

Lieutenant Elizabeth Sovacool, Lieutenant Merlin Ghobrial, and Sergeant Anthony Shea were interviewed regarding this area of interest. All provided extensive details about the agency’s policies, procedures, training, and overall processes related to handling juvenile offenders and youth outreach programs within the Orange County Sheriff’s Office. Lieutenant Sovacool is the commander of the department’s Youth Services section, which is responsible for all school resource officers (SROs) assigned to the Orange County Public Schools. Lieutenant Ghobrial supervises the section that is responsible for juvenile programs and outreach. Sergeant Shea oversees the department’s juvenile civil citation program.

As part of the review process, standards in Chapter 44 (Juvenile Operations) were reviewed in conjunction with the interviews with agency personnel. The agency policies and procedures are structured in a manner which provides clear guidance in the processes and procedures related to dealing with juvenile offenders. The department policies place an emphasis on using custodial arrests involving juveniles only when necessary and utilizing youth diversion programs when appropriate to keep juveniles from entering the formal court processes. All Deputies within the department review policies regarding juvenile operations frequently and the agency provides training to officers related to handling juvenile offenders.

The Orange County Sheriff’s Office provides school resource officers (SROs) to all schools within Orange County. Lieutenant Sovacool supervises approximately 156 SROs and 24 supervisors. All SROs assigned to the school system work for the Orange County Sheriff’s Office and fall under the command/control of the Sheriff’s Office. Any Deputy assigned to the SRO position receives a basic two-week SRO training course. Additionally, SROs receive training related to racial intelligence, emotional intelligence, tactical medicine, crisis intervention, and responses to active threat incidents. The SROs work directly with the Orange County Public School Police on matters that arise within the school system. SROs have a wonderful working relationship with students and staff in the school system. The SRO program has been vital not only for security of the schools but building positive relationships with community youth. The Sheriff and the executive staff of the agency are kept informed about the SRO program and activity on a weekly basis. Lieutenant Sovacool submits a weekly report to her chain of command detailing SRO activities, threats within the schools, training, offenses handled by the SROs, and incidents involving students in mental health crisis (Baker Act incidents). The department also oversees the Guardian Program within the school system. The Guardian Program is trained security officers that are being utilized within the county's charter schools to provide security. All guardians assigned to the charter schools receive a minimum of 144 hours of training and meet all requirements in the state of Florida. All guardians also receive approval from the Sheriff's Office prior to being assigned to the school system in this role.

The Orange County Sheriff's Office firmly believes in giving first-time, low-level, and non-violent juvenile offenders a second chance. The department uses the juvenile civil citation program to assist with their youth diversion efforts. The juvenile civil citation program allows the agency to work with the prosecutor and juvenile justice center in diverting low level youthful offenders from formal court proceedings. The department also consults with victims involved in these cases to ensure that they agree with a juvenile offender participating in the juvenile civil citation program. The juvenile civil citation program is frequently used by SROs within the school system. Annual training is provided to SROs about the department's juvenile civil citation program. The department collects data on this program and attempts to identify trends related to juvenile offenders participating in the program. Meetings within the department and regionally are held to continually improve the department's effectiveness in handling juvenile offenders.

The department maintains or participates in many juvenile outreach programs to maintain contact with juveniles and their families within Orange County. Some of these youth outreach programs include the Law Enforcement Explorer Post, Teen Academy, Police Athletic League, and Deputies mentoring at risk youth within various programs. The department employs a full-time occupant protection specialist who assists with educating the community about child safety seats and the importance of occupant protection involving children. The Orange County Sheriff's Office participates in various community events to provide education and prevention materials to families in attendance. The department utilizes a Game Trailer to connect with youths at some of these events and within the school system. The Game Trailer is a large trailer that is taken to various locations by the department. The trailer contains several video gaming systems and large television screens. Deputies can play video games with youth at these community events near the video game trailer. The department has outstanding relationships with community partners that assist with youth outreach. Some of these partners include Boys & Girls Club, Harbor House, and The Children Safety Village.

The Sheriff and the executive command staff of the agency are kept informed frequently about the department's efforts related to juvenile offenders and juvenile outreach programs. The department's youth outreach section submits quarterly reports documenting community events that were attended by the department and how many children were involved at these events. The department's programs and outreach efforts are adjusted based upon community needs.

Area of Interest: 911 Communications

Communications Manager Cheryl Williams, Communications Manager Myra Allcock, and Communications Supervisor Sheri Pierce were interviewed regarding this area of interest. All provided extensive details about the agency's policies, procedures, training, and overall processes related to 911 communications within the Orange County Sheriff's Office. The Orange County Sheriff's Office Communications Center is authorized for 202 positions and is led by the Director of Communications. The Orange County Sheriff's Office Communications Center is the primary public safety answering point (PSAP) for Orange County. The Director of Communications is supported by 4 communications managers and several communications supervisors assigned to each shift within the center.

As part of the review process, the standards in Chapter 81 (Communications) were reviewed in conjunction with the interviews with communications center personnel. The communication policies and procedures are structured in a manner which provides clear guidance in the processes and procedures related to agency 911 operations. Communications policies are reviewed by 911 staff on a regular basis. New personnel hired within the center are provided access to policies and provided training on policy/procedures of the center during their communications training process. The communications center is secure and only accessible to authorized staff members with a key card. The center a fully operational backup center that is available, during emergency situations or if the need arises to evacuate the primary PSAP location. All inspections and tests of the alternate power source are completed as required by the standard.

The Orange County Sheriff's Office Communications Center has a very comprehensive training program. New personnel are hired as 911 call-takers and receive training in this job specific area of the center. Once proficient as a call-taker, the new employee progresses to 911 dispatcher and receives training on talking on the radio with field units. The third and final progressive training step is new employees receive training as a teletype operator. During initial hire, new employees attend a 911 academy, which is 6-weeks in length. On-the job training is a minimum of 480 hours for call-taking and 640 hours for dispatching on the radio. The state of Florida requires certification and successfully completing a state exam for 911 communications personnel. Additionally, the state of Florida requires 12 hours of continuing education every two years for communications personnel to remain certified. The agency far exceeds this 12-hour state requirement for career development training with their staff. In addition to basic training requirements, 911 communications personnel receive a variety of specialized training, which includes handling suicidal callers and training related to the department's disaster recovery plan.

Newly promoted and existing supervisors within the communications center receive various leadership development training opportunities. The agency sends communications supervisors to APCO leadership development courses and various leadership seminars hosted by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement. Communications supervisors also participate in various planning exercises related to the agency's response to natural disasters or critical incidents. The communications center has also partnered with Valencia State Community College to enhance leadership development training for communications center supervisors. Supervisors attend a 4-month leadership development program at the community college.

The communications center collects and reviews a variety of data to ensure that a high level of performance is being maintained. Supervisors and managers are responsible for quality assurance checks of their personnel's calls. An emphasis is placed on quality assurance checks being done on all high priority calls. A weekly report is submitted by the communications manager documenting training activity within the agency. The Communications Director frequently meets with the supervisors within the center and the Director meets frequently with the Sheriff's executive staff to ensure that the Sheriff is kept informed about the activity within the communications center.

Area of Interest: K-9 Operations

This area of interest is a critical area of performance and was suggested as an area to review by the agency and agreed upon by the Compliance Service Member. Interviews were conducted with Sergeant David Stephens and Corporal Robert Lees. Both Sergeant Stephens and Corporal Lees are assigned full-time to the department's K-9 Unit. The Orange County Sheriff's Office provides 24-hour K-9 coverage across the county and has approximately thirty-one different K-9 teams. The department utilizes dual-purpose explosive detection and narcotic detection K-9s. The department also has a cadaver detection K-9 team and several bloodhound teams.

As part of the review process, the standard in Chapter 41 (K-9) was reviewed in conjunction with the interviews with Sergeant Stephens and Corporal Lees. The agency policies and procedures are structured in a manner which provides clear guidance in the processes and procedures related to agency K-9 operations. Agency policy clearly outlines selection processes for newly purchased K-9s and handlers when vacancies exist within the department's K-9 unit. Each K-9 squad is supervised by a Sergeant and Corporal. The Sergeant and Corporal assigned to each K-9 squad are responsible for ensuring that K-9 training is being conducted according to policy and K-9 certification requirements. K-9 supervisors are also responsible for conducting inspections of their assigned K-9 teams and equipment within the unit. K-9 supervisors are also responsible for inspecting K-9 training and deployment documentation to ensure that handlers are documenting K-9 activities appropriately.

Deputies who are transferred to the K-9 unit receive basic training with their newly assigned K-9 partner. New K-9 handlers attend a 12-week state certification K-9 course, which focuses on patrol duties of the handler/K-9. The department then hosts additional in-house training that deals with the K-9/handler's area of detection (explosive or narcotics). After completion of the state basic academy and departmental detection certification, new K-9 handlers are then required to complete a K-9 field training process where they are paired with a Senior K-9 handler for 4-weeks prior to being assigned to a solo patrol with their K-9 partner. K-9 handlers complete recertification requirements in-house and with the state of Florida annually. A minimum of 16-hours of maintenance training is completed by all K-9 handlers. All Deputies within the Orange County Sheriff's Office receive a general K-9 course and information about the K-9 unit's capabilities during their basic recruit training. Updates from the K-9 unit may be sent out to the department when they are needed and reviewed by patrol personnel.

K-9 handlers are required to submit a use of force report in the department electronic reporting program when a K-9 is involved in a use of force incident. This reporting requirement is required for both K-9 use of force incidents involving an actual bite and those where the K-9 may have been involved in the custodial arrest without a bite. After the K9 use of force occurs, a K-9 supervisor is notified and responds to the scene. The K-9 supervisors begin the administrative review of the incident on-scene by gathering statements from persons involved, speaking with any witnesses, collecting evidence, and documenting their findings. The written review from the first line supervisor is then submitted through the chain of command for review and approval. K-9 supervisors who are tasked with conducting administrative reviews of K-9 use of force incidents are provided in-house training related to this process. The department also has procedures and reporting requirements in place to handle accidental K-9 bites if they occur. All accidental K-9 bites are reviewed by the K-9 supervisors for training needs and a complaint is generated for the department's professional standards unit to investigate.

The department utilizes their electronic software programs to collect a wide array of data related to K-9 deployments, training, care/maintenance, and K-9 use of force. Additionally, each K-9 handler is required to submit a monthly report detailing activity, training, and other relevant information. The K-9 supervisor then compiles a monthly report from this data that is submitted through the chain of command. Biannually, the K-9 supervisor conducts a K-9 bite ratio report for the unit. This report is used to identify any trends involving K-9 bites with specific K-9 teams that may need to be addressed. When an unusual trend is identified, it is further reviewed and addressed immediately if issues are present with a specific K-9 team.

Area of Interest: Confidential Informants and Informant Funds

This area of interest is a critical area of performance and was suggested as an area to review by the agency and agreed upon by the Compliance Service Member. An interview was conducted with Captain Susan Wallis. Captain Wallis is assigned to the department's Vice/Narcotics section and is the department's informant/informant fund manager. All informants and use of informant funds are reviewed by the Vice/Narcotics section of the agency and Captain Wallis. This central point of approval for all agency informants ensures consistency and accountability.

The Vice/Narcotics section of the agency is supervised by two Lieutenants and seven Sergeants. The Vice/Narcotics section is divided into two areas. One area is investigative, and the other areas focuses on street drugs/undercover narcotics enforcement. The investigative area of the unit includes federal task force officers, nuisance abatement, the department's crime line tips, overdose squad, parcel squad, and civilian analysts. The Vice/Narcotics section includes approximately 50 sworn personnel. All personnel within the agency receive training during the academy on the use of informants. Personnel assigned to the Vice/Narcotics section of the agency receive training during their on-the-job training as a new Agent.

As part of the review process, all standards related to the use of informants and informant funds were reviewed in conjunction with the interviews with Captain Wallis. The agency policies and procedures are structured in a manner which provides clear guidance in the processes and procedures related to the usage of informants. The agency has clear procedures in place that govern the usage of informant funds. Agency policy outlines safeguards in dealing with informants and requirements that must be met to utilize someone as an informant. The agency reviews informants annually to assess their suitability in serving the agency as a confidential informant.

Investigative personnel requesting to utilize informant funds for any investigation are required to complete an agency form documenting the distribution of funds. The agency has established threshold limits for distribution of informant funds and the higher the amount the higher level of approval that is required for distribution. All informant files and investigative funds are stored in secured areas of the agency. The files and funds are only accessible to authorized persons.

The agency has good processes in place to ensure accountability and monitoring of informant funds. On a quarterly basis, the informant funds are audited. The results of these quarterly audits are reported to the department's accreditation and finance sections. Additionally, Sergeants conduct unannounced audits of their personnel's informant funds and tracking documentation. The findings of these audits are also reported to the executive command staff of the agency. If issues are identified during these audits, they are immediately further investigated, documented, and corrected.

Processes and reporting procedures are in place to ensure that the Sheriff and command staff are kept informed about the Vice/Narcotics section. Monthly meetings are held with all Captains and above within the agency. During these meetings, anything that is pertinent related to Vice/Narcotics is discussed. A monthly statistical report detailing enforcement activity, overdoses, and other unit specific activity is sent up the chain of command. The Major that oversees Vice/Narcotics meets with the Sheriff weekly to present statistics related to overdoses within the County.

Area of Interest: Emergency Management

The geographical location of Orange County makes it susceptible to weather events, especially hurricanes. In order to provide services to residents and the visiting public the Orange County Sheriff's Office has developed a robust Emergency Management function. The Critical Incident Management Team (CIMT) has responsibility for this function.

The Agency has comprehensive All Hazards Plan. OCSO satisfies all requirements of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) regarding the Incident Command System(ICS). The CIMT commander is tasked with planning the response to critical incident events. The Agency has a Continuity of Operations Plan(COOP). This plan was utilized during the OCSO's response to COVID. CIMT regularly works with state and federal partners.

The Agency has a well-equipped Emergency Operations Center at the Sheriff's Operations Center. If a full county activation is required Sheriff's Office personnel will have a presence in the County EOC.

The Hurricane Disaster Response Team is part of CIMT. The Agency utilizes HURREVAC software provided by the National Hurricane Center's Forecast Advisories to assist officials in making evacuation decisions in the event of pending hurricanes. The public can keep apprised of emergency and weather conditions by enrolling in OCSO's Code Red system. The system will provide notifications through electronic devices chosen by enrolled persons.

The Hurricane Disaster Response Team (HDRT) is the function that responds to Orange County events, as well as anywhere in Florida or the Southeast. In 2022, OCSO personnel deployed to the Fort Meyers area for Hurricane Ian. In 2023 they responded to North Florida to assist in recovery efforts stemming from Hurricane Idalia. Communications personnel are participants in the Florida Telecommunicator Emergency Response. Telecommunicators can respond to disasters throughout Florida to relieve those telecommunicators whose agencies have been impacted by emergency events. The team is equipped with specialized vehicles and equipment. This includes a commercial grade food truck. Vehicles and equipment are regularly inspected by CIMT personnel to ensure operational readiness.

Personnel applying for positions in this function are shown a video which describes the assigned duties. This is to assess an applicant's true interest in positions. Training for assigned personnel is extensive. In 2023 members received over 1700 hours of training. Personnel assigned to ICS required functions are cross-trained in all functions for greater operational flexibility.

Area of Interest: Mental Illness Responses

The Orange County Sheriff's Office staffs a Behavioral Response Unit. The Behavioral Response Unit (BRU) is a CoResponder program in which trained mental health clinicians from Devereaux Advanced Behavioral Health are paired with Orange County deputies to respond to calls for service involved mental health crisis. The unit is comprised of eight sworn and six civilian employees. The agency staffs a full-time clinician at the Communications Center. This position is a valuable resource to the public and the agency. The clinician is on site and available to screen calls for service, as well as handle many calls for service. The agency has seen a decrease in the number of calls that require a response. Clinicians are mental health professionals, and the deputies are all Crisis Intervention Trained and are required to complete 40 hours of Crisis Intervention Team Training. The Teams also complete 40 hours of specialized Behavioral Response Training.

The BRU clinicians are able to assess the needs of the individual, determine the best course of treatment, access community resources and provide follow-up to keep individuals engaged in services. The BRU team assists with Crisis De-escalation and intervention with individuals experiencing a mental health crisis, diversion from potential arrest or involuntary hospitalization, referrals to long term services in the community, and bridging the gap between current services and new services. The BRU was founded in 2020. Since the induction of the BRU, the agency has not had any arrests or had to use force on any incidents in which the BRU responded.

In addition to the BRU, the agency is committed to Crisis Intervention. The agency strives to have all employees trained in Crisis Intervention and most recently focused on ensuring training for civilian employees as well. The agency currently has approximately 1097 employees, both sworn and civilian who are trained and certified in Crisis Intervention. OCSO utilizes the Crisis Intervention Team model developed in Memphis Tennessee. The agency strives to direct subjects who are in mental crises into treatment rather than jail.

successful completion of the testing session all new hires are scheduled for a Truth Verification Appointment followed up by a pre-employment selection review board, and a physical agility test. All applicants are subject to an extensive background investigation conducted by OCSO sworn personnel. Reaccreditation Year 4 Notes:

The Orange County Sheriff’s Office has began implementing the new Florida Incident-Based Reporting System (FIBRS) and National Incident Based Reporting System (NIBRS) which are incident-based reporting systems, replacing the older Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) summary-based reporting system.

Crime Data numbers for 2023 (Year 4 Accreditation cycle) are captured in a different manner than in past years, and the numbers may seem different based on which category of UCR Part I versus FIBRS/NIBRS reporting from previous years.

Beginning in the next accreditation cycle (2024), the Orange County Sheriff’s Office will be reporting the FIBRS/NIBRS crime statistics, which aligns with evolving law enforcement standards to provide more comprehensive and detailed information on reported crimes.

Reaccreditation Year 2 Notes:

Promotional Lists are good for 2 years. The year the test were taken as opposed to the final eligibility lists after testing are in different years, therefore making the numbers not look correct. We utilize the dates of the test, versus the date of eligibility and dates of promotions during 1 calendar year and not the specific testing position.

This makes the Percent Promoted should be based on the eligible after testing no the tested. (Percent Promoted - (WM 58%, WF 70%, BM 108%, BF 67%, HM 86%, HF 50%, OM 67%, OF 0%) or the percentage of promoted per race for 2021 (WM 47%, WF 8%, BM 15%, BF 2%, HM 23%, HF 2%, OM 5%, OF 0%)

Reaccreditation Year 3 Notes:

The Tested and Eligible lists may be different as tests are conducted near the end of the year, and the eligibility may not be completed until the next calendar year. OCSO tracks all three separately. The date of the Test, The Date the eligibility list is approved, and the date of official promotions.

Reaccreditation Year 4 Notes:

The Orange County SO tests are a 2 year list for Corporal and Sergeant. The test was administered in 2022, however the Corporal and Sergeant list were not certified until January of 2023, making the number of eligible after testing seem off.

The only test this year administered was the Lieutenant's test, which is a never ending list.

The percentage Promoted should be changed to determine to the total promoted during the Year (33) versus each race/gender. For 2023 (WM 39%, WF 18%, BM 18%, BF 3%, HM 6%, HF 3%, OM 9%, OF 3%)

The total percentage of promoted for the 4 years would be: (WM 50%, WF 11%, BM 15%, BF 3%, HM 13%, HF 3%, OM 5%, OF 1%)
