DISCUSSION

Internal investigations, along with the subsequent adjudication processes, are essential to preserving the trust of both the public and department members in the effective administration of internal discipline. Investigations into allegations of misconduct are conducted to uphold the department's integrity, ensure appropriate disciplinary action for members, and protect those who are innocent. These investigations will be carried out promptly and with a commitment to fairness. Throughout all internal matters, the safety and well-being of department members, as well as the fulfillment of the police mission, will remain the highest priority.

If the agency determines that disciplinary action is appropriate, it shall complete its investigation and give notice in writing to the member of its intent to proceed with disciplinary action, along with a proposal of the specific action sought, including length of suspension, if applicable. Notice to the member must be provided within 180 days after the date the agency received the notice of the alleged misconduct, regardless of the origin of the allegation or complaint, except as follows:

3. Under FS 112.533\(2\)\(b\) – Receipt and Processing of Complaints, an investigation is presumed active if shown it is continuing with a good faith, reasonable anticipation of a finding. However, it is presumed inactive if no finding is made within forty-five (45) days after the complaint is filed and no extension has been filed.
 4. Under FS 112.532\(6\)\(b\) – Law Enforcement Officers' and Correctional Officers' Rights, an investigation against a law enforcement officer may be reopened, notwithstanding the limitations period for commencing disciplinary action, demotion, or dismissal, if:

notice of violation is sufficient to notify the investigator of the requirements of this part which are alleged to have been violated and the factual basis of each violation.

2. If the investigator fails to cure the violation or continues the violation after being notified by the law enforcement officer, the officer shall request the agency head or their designee be informed of the alleged intentional violation. Once this request is made, the interview of the officer shall cease and the officer's refusal to respond to further investigative questions does not constitute insubordination or any similar type of policy violation.
 3. Thereafter, within three working days, a written notice of violation and request for a compliance review hearing shall be filed with the agency head or designee which must contain sufficient information to identify the requirements of this part which are alleged to have been violated and the factual basis of each violation. All evidence related to this investigation must be preserved for review and presentation at the compliance review hearing. For purposes of confidentiality, the compliance review panel hearing shall be considered part of the original investigation.
 4. Unless otherwise remedied by the agency before the hearing, a compliance review hearing must be conducted within ten (10) working days after the request for a compliance review hearing is filed, unless, by mutual agreement of the officer and the agency or for extraordinary reasons, an alternate date is chosen.
