

District 6

Kevin Leung

Kevin Leung is the current South Metro Fire Rescue (SMFR) Board Director representing District 6. He and his family have lived in Douglas County for over 30 years, with more than 25 of those years spent in Castle Pines, which is part of District 6.

Kevin, the son of illiterate parents, grew up in extreme poverty in Hong Kong. Through hard work and determination, he earned an MBA and a Master's in Computer Science from the University of Colorado. He owns an award-winning local business and works in Information Technology (IT). Kevin also served as an affiliate faculty member at Regis University and held the position of global IT manager at Jeppesen, a Boeing company.

For over 20 years, Kevin has been an active community volunteer, with roles including:

- South Metro Fire Rescue Board Director
- Commissioner for the Castle Pines Urban Renewal Authority
- Former Douglas County School Board Director and Board Treasurer
- 2020 recipient of the Colorado Association of School Boards McGuffey Award
- 2014 recipient of a Certificate of Special Congressional Recognition (Colorado CD6)
- Appointed member of the Colorado State Advisory Council for Parent Involvement in Education
- Participant in Douglas County's District and School Accountability Committees
- Appointed Committee Chair for the Parker Authority for Reinvestment Advisory for three terms

As the current SMFR Board Director and former Board Treasurer for a school district with a budget of $700 million, Kevin understands how to maintain long-term financial stability and ensure accountability for taxpayer funds. He is a proven leader who cares about his constituents, prioritizing the protection of residents' lives and property, as well as the recruitment and retention of the best firefighters.
