

Texas Woman's University University Regulation and Procedure

Regulation and Procedure Name: Student Organizations

Regulation and Procedure
Number: URP: 06.400

Policy Owner: Student Life

POLICY STATEMENT

Student organizations granted University Recognition are a vital part of our Texas Woman's University community. Student organizations sponsor activities and services which help to improve the quality of student life, provide opportunities for students to meet other students and faculty/staff of the University, and serve as a laboratory for students to practice the skills associated with leadership. Volunteer associations of students who have been granted the privileges of University recognition may be an asset to achieving the University's goals of student learning and retention. It is hoped that all recognized student organizations, as part of the University community, join in helping to create an environment that enables all students to accomplish their educational goals while at the University.

The following guidelines have been developed to clarify the relationship between the University and a student organization, and to provide for a consistent application of the criteria for University recognition.

This Policy is applicable to TWU Students, Faculty, Staff, and Guests.

REGULATION AND PROCEDURE

I. Relationship

- A. University recognition of a student organization means that the student organization has completed the requirements for University recognition and is eligible for the privileges extended to recognized student organizations (outlined later in this document). University recognition, therefore, does not imply University endorsement of the activities of the student organization. University recognition also does not imply that the student organization has been granted agency status by the State of Texas or Texas Woman's University. While faculty and staff members of the University serve in advisory capacities to student organizations, it is presumed that students of legal adult age are adults and, therefore, make and are accountable for their decisions and behavior as individuals and as members of organizations.

- B. A current listing of recognized (both sponsored and chartered) student organizations may be obtained from the Center for Student Development on the Denton campus or its website, and current listings of student organizations on the Dallas and Houston campuses may be obtained through their respective Offices of Student Life or on their web pages.

II. Eligibility

- A. Five or more students sign its application for recognition;
- B. It limits membership to students, faculty members, and staff members of the University;
- C. It does not deny membership on the basis of race, color, religion, national or ethnic origin, gender, age, disability, citizenship, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, genetic information, or against qualified individuals with disabilities except that

 - 2. A registered student organization may restrict membership based on the provisions of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972;
- D. There are no known restrictions, including financial against the registered chartered or sponsored student organization;

1. In considering a completed application, the Center for Student Development will not pass on the merits of the proposed registered chartered or sponsored student organization's purpose, but will recognize the applicant unless it does not meet eligibility criteria listed above.
