Effective Date: September 18, 2018
I. Purpose: The purpose of this policy is to outline how the University of Cincinnati Police Division (UCPD) identifies and disseminates information obtained as part of its Lessons Learned Program in an effort to improve the performance of the Division and its components.

II. Policy: It is the policy of the UCPD to continually capture, review, and analyze information and data collected from internal and external sources for the purpose of identifying and sharing what the Division can do differently and adapt to best practices in modern policing that align with UCPD’s mission, vision, and values.

III. Definitions:

Administrative Review: A documented evaluation of various types of police actions that do not require a formalized investigation however are subject to a supervisory or command level evaluation for adherence to policies, training and practices.

Lesson Learned: Knowledge or understanding gained by experience. The experience may be positive (a best practice), as in a successful event, critical incident, or operation or it can also be a negative, as in an error or failure during an event, incident, or operation. A lesson must be significant in that it has a real or assumed impact on everyday operations. It must be valid in that it is factually and technically correct; applicable in that it identifies a specific design, process, or decision; and it reinforces a positive result or reduces or eliminates the potential for failures and mishaps. It is the knowledge acquired from an observation or an adverse experience that allows a UCPD employee or the agency to improve.
