

University of California, San Francisco Police Department General Orders

3.29 Selection: Probationary Periods

3.29.1 Probation (Revised: 2/2/11)

The probationary period is regarded as an integral part of the selection process. It is utilized for carefully observing the work of personnel, securing the most effective adjustment of a new member to his/her position and evaluating and releasing any member whose performance does not meet the required work standards.