7. GUIDELINES ON THE USE OF FORCE IN A CANINE DEPLOYMENT

This section is provided to assist canine handlers in making appropriate decisions on the deployment of their canines when the use of force is needed to effectuate a lawful arrest.

The fact that a suspect is fleeing or hiding creates a potentially dangerous situation for pursuing officers.

Police officers are at a strategic disadvantage when pursuing a fleeing suspect or attempting to locate one that is hiding since:

- It is usually unknown if the suspect is or has become armed;
- It is usually unknown if the suspect plans to inflict harm on or upon the pursuing police officers and/or the public. Therefore, the use of canine assistance would usually be appropriate in the following circumstances:

  A. Protection of the canine handler.

  B. Protection of police officers or a third person.

  C. Suspects who flee after committing a crime in which potential assaultive behavior was used, or threatened to be used, and is given a lawful order to stop.

  D. When the canine is assaulted.

In determining the necessity for force and the appropriate level of force, canine handlers shall evaluate each situation in light of the known circumstances including, but not limited to:

1. The seriousness of the crime;
2. The level of threat or resistance presented by the subject and the danger to the community;
3. Prior knowledge of suspect(s)’ criminal background.
4. The use of canine force must be in accordance with the guidelines of a level 4 use of force of Policy and Procedure NO. 400 Use of Force.

8. BUILDING SEARCHES
When it is believed that an unauthorized entry has been gained into a building or a suspect has fled into a building and is concealing himself in a building, and;

Where probable cause exists to believe that the suspect hiding within has committed a crime; in which potential assaultive behavior was used, or threatened to be used, and is given a lawful order to stop.

The use of force is justified to affect the arrest of a suspect.

In determining the necessity for force and the appropriate level of force, officers shall evaluate each situation in light of the known circumstances including, but not limited to:

A. The seriousness of the crime;
B. The level of threat or resistance presented by the subject and the danger to the community;
C. Prior knowledge of suspect(s) criminal background.
D. The use of canine force must be in accordance with the guidelines of a level 4 use of force of Policy and Procedure NO. 400 Use of Force.

Vacant building off lead canine searches should only be conducted when the suspect sought has committed a serious crime and if delay of their apprehension would pose a serious threat to public safety.

The initial responding officers shall immediately establish a perimeter and exhaust all efforts to determine if innocent persons, including police personnel are within the building. This should be accomplished without entry to the building.

The initial responding officer shall exhaust all available efforts to avoid further contamination of the affected areas unless emergency situations dictate otherwise.

The handler shall make the following warning announcement upon entering the building and before beginning the search and again on each subsequent floor of the building, prior to deploying the canine; except in those areas where it may prove unsafe to a search team. This decision is the sole responsibility of the canine handler conducting the search. A warning will be given in a loud clear manner and shall always include the following elements:

A. Your identity as a police officer.
B. A warning to come out.
C. Your intention to use a police work dog should the suspect refuse to come out.

An example of a command is as follows: “This is the Worcester Police Department Canine Unit. If you don't come out, I will send my dog and he will find and bite you.”

All subsequent reports will include all warnings issued by a handler prior to the deployment of said canine.

9. AREA SEARCHES

Area searches when it is believed that the suspect has fled into an area;
Where probable cause exists to believe that the suspect or suspects hiding and said area have committed a crime as defined by the laws of the state of Massachusetts, and;

The use of force is justified to effectuate the arrest of a suspect and or suspects.

Initial responding officers shall immediately establish a perimeter and exhaust all available efforts to determine if innocent persons including police personnel are contained within the established perimeter area without entering the area.

The initial responding officer shall exhaust all available efforts to avoid further contamination of the affected areas unless emergency situations dictate otherwise.

The handler shall make a warning with the same elements as above, unless for safety reasons he/she decides that said warnings would make the situation unsafe. The search will be conducted in a systematic manner as determined by the handler.

All searches will be conducted off lead except when, in the opinion of the handler, dog safety would be jeopardized or it is the decision of the handler to employ other officers to assist in the search.

10. TRACKING

Tracks can be conducted by the canine teams for various situations including, but not limited to; missing persons, e.g., children, elderly, etc. or suspected criminals who have fled a particular area or location.

The initial responding officer shall immediately establish a perimeter and exhaust all available efforts to determine if innocent and/or unrelated persons or persons are contained within the established perimeter area without entering same.

Initial responding officer shall exhaust all available efforts to avoid further contamination of the affected areas, especially in areas which the individual or individuals to be tracked were last seen, unless emergency situation dictates otherwise.

Tracking will be conducted on a lead at a significant length to be determined by the handler. When feasible a track should be conducted with a K-9 Team and sufficient back up.

11. CRIMINAL APPREHENSION

When probable cause exists to believe that a suspect or suspects has committed a crime in which potential assaultive behavior was used, or threatened to be used and; the use of force is justified to effectuate the arrest of a suspect or suspects.

Whenever possible, the handler shall allow the suspect or suspects to surrender by giving a warning announcement prior to the release of a canine for the purposes of apprehension. An example of the warning is:
“This is the Worcester Police Department Canine Unit. If you don’t come out, I will send my dog and he will find and bite you.”

If the suspect or suspects surrender the canine apprehension will be terminated and the suspects will be handcuffed and searched.

Once a canine has effectuated an apprehension, the canine is trained to maintain the bite during any resistance provided by the suspect. The handler will immediately advise a suspect to stop fighting and/or resisting the canine and the handler will command the canine to release the suspect.

Once a suspect has complied and submitted to the arrest, the handler commands the canine to release the apprehension.

Once a suspect has been handcuffed, and searched, the handler will ensure that the suspect is provided with immediate medical attention for any injury sustained.

This section shall apply to all instances in which the canine team has successfully located and apprehended a suspect or suspects.
